Arabs Take Jericho, 20 Miles from Jerusalem

10 JEWS DEAD AS GUNNERS FIRE ON TOWN

Jewish Militia Captures Two Police Fortresses in Night Battle.

(Pictures on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 28—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said today scout troops of his Arab legion have occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem.

Jewish sources in Haifa said Arab Legion gunners shelled a Jewish settlement near Naharaim, on the Trans-Jordan frontier. Ten Jews were reported killed.

Other reports to Haifa said the Jewish militia Haganah captured two police fortresses near the Trans-Jordan frontier in the night. The Jews fought with Arabs, they said, after British forces abandoned the fortresses as part of the general British withdrawal incident to ending of the mandate May 15. The fortresses are at the all-Arab town of Samakh and at Jisr El Majamie.

The Jewish underground, Irgun Zvai Leumi, said it had captured the entire Manshieh quarter of the all-Arab port of Jaffa adjoining Tel Aviv. The battle for Jaffa rose to new intensity. Irgun and Haganah fighters, newly allied, fight side by side in four key suburbs of the city. The Jews won control of Haifa last week.

It was officially announced in Jerusalem that British army units had gone into action this morning "to break up the attack by Jews on Jaffa."

20 Miles from Amman

Jericho, destroyed and cursed by the prophet Joshua in Biblical times, lies 20 miles west of Amman, Trans-Jordan capital. Abdullah has said he will personally lead armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Lebanon into Palestine this week to fight Zionism.

He told The Associated Press in his capital in Amman that the force which occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem, was made up of "scout troops which always precede the regular army."

His statement was a contradiction of denials by the British army, which said yesterday that members of the British-trained Arab legion in Jericho consisted of one company under British army orders asigned to secure Allenby bridge.

King Abdullah earlier announced he personally had taken command of Trans-Jordan Syrian, Iraqi and Lebanese troops planning an early invasion of Palestine to fight Zionism.

Officers Recalled

He said today he had recalled to active service all retired legion officers.

Yesterday, he conferred at length with 100 leaders of Trans-Jordan Arab tribes and reported he was assured by them: "We are at war with the Jews."

Abdullah's announcement concerning Jericho added to the invasion jitters already gripping Palestine.

Tension was heightened by rumors from the north that Lebanese and Syrian armies are moving towards Palestine.

British officials acted to quiet the alarm fast spreading among both Jewish and Arab leaders in Palestine. One official said the British had heard of no declaration of war "and consider any such declaration extremely unlikely."

An invasion of Palestine before the British mandate expires May 15 could be considered an act of war. The British have promised to resist any Arab "incurions" made before then.

Might Be Torch

Palestine Arab leaders would have little cause to rejoice over invasion. Such an act might upset the delicate balance by which they hold political control over the Holy Land's 1,250,000 Arabs.

An Arab report that Egyptian armored troops crossed the southern frontier of Palestine early yesterday was denied by Egyptian officials in Cairo.

Sources close to the Egyptian army, however, maintain that an invasion had occurred, with the troops involved probably going as volunteers.

McNeal Resigns Cooler Post, Canadian Executive Successor

The resignation by Frank S. McNeal as general manager of Universal Cooler division, International Detrola Corporation of Detroit and the appointment of Dan Robertson, president of Universal Cooler Company of Canada as his successor, were announced today by J. E. Rheim, International Detrola vice president.

Mr. McNeal, head of Universal Cooler since 1935, will serve the division in a consulting capacity for an extended period and continues a member of the board of directors of International which merged with Universal Cooler in 1945.

In New York, C. Russell Feldmann, president and board chairman of International Detrola corp., said:

"Mr. McNeal has made a large contribution to the progress and success of Universal Cooler over many years. Although he now withdraws from its active management, we shall be glad to have available his knowledge and experience as a consultant to advise the Division in many phases of the refrigeration manufacturing industry."

Mr. Robertson, associated with the Cooler Canadian firm since 1928, has long executive experience in the manufacturing of refrigeration equipment. The Brantford, Ontario, plant builds ice cream cabinets, farm freezers, commercial refrigerators, and other complete units for sale throughout Canada and overseas. He will continue to serve as president of the Canadian subsidiary, with its day to day operations being administered by Howard Gray, vice president, as general manager.

Mr. Robertson and his family plan to move to Marion at an early date.

Mr. McNeal is out of the city until early next week and could not be reached for a statement regarding his future plans.

"BIG BILL" KNUDSEN HONORED IN DEATH

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 28—William S. "Big Bill" Knudsen was honored in death today.

The great and the small of industry passed by his bier in a midtown Detroit funeral parlor as messages of sympathy and tribute came from government and industry throughout the world.

Knudsen, who mobilized American industry during World War II died at his home here yesterday following a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in ill health for 16 months. Funeral services will be held tomorrow from Epiphany Lutheran church here with burial in Acacia Park cemetery in adjoining Oakland county.

As funeral services begin at 2 p. m. (EST) Thursday General Motors plants throughout the country will be stilled for two minutes. Meanwhile flags throughout Detroit were at half staff by proclamation of Mayor Eugene I. Van Antwerp.

ASKS BUYERS' STRIKE AGAINST 6 PACKERS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28—The CIO called today for a nationwide buyers' strike against meat produced by six packing firms whose union workers walked out 44 days ago in a pay fight.

CIO President Philip Murray appealed to his organization's 6,000,000 members and to the public at large to boycott products of the six firms.

Murray listed them as the Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, Morrell and Rath companies. They have been operating on a partial basis since the March 15 walkout of 10,000 members of the CIO Packinghouse Workers union.

"It is important," Murray said in a statement, "that the packing companies feel the whiplash of public opinion to move them from their arrogant position of refusing to pay any attention to the living needs of their workers."

The CIO chief urged his unions to enlist housewives in "a nationwide insistence that we will eat no scab meat."

The strikers have demanded a 29-cent an hour wage boost. They rejected a nine-cent increase offered by the companies.

Negotiations seeking a settlement went ahead here, meanwhile.

INDICTED IN TRAFFIC CASE

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., April 28—James Rankin, 45, salesman for a Mansfield coffee firm, was indicted by the Seneca county grand jury yesterday on a charge of failure to yield the right of way at an intersection. Rankin and two Tiffin men were injured last Sept. 2 in a collision of his truck and their truck near Tiffin.

BONUS CHECKS START INTO MAILS TODAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 28—The bonus checks start into the mails today.

A total of 1,930 checks are to go out (the total will be 850,000 when the job is done), and there is to be a little ceremony of presenting the first check in person to Jimmy Flood, the Quaker City veteran whose application was the first pulled out of the mailsacks several weeks back.

Bonus officials weren't quite sure how much of a ceremony. Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and the other four members of the sinking fund commission, plus Bonus Director Chester W. Goble, took part when the mail sacks were opened, but only the governor was listed for sure for today.

Goble was in Washington on a national guard matter.

Later in the day the other 1,929 checks are to be slipped into envelopes and started to the impatient hands of the 1,724 Army veterans and 206 ex-sailors. The army men get $584,537, the Navy $61,620. The checks average $334.

Mark A. Hanna III Gets 5-Year Sentence

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 28—Mark A. Hanna III was sentenced today to five years in prison on a plea of guilty to a federal charge of forging two checks totaling $60,000.

Hanna, 39-year-old member of a well-known Cleveland family, was sentenced by Federal Judge John Knight.

He was accused specifically of forging the name of an uncle, C. H. Hanna, Cleveland industrialist, to two checks for $30,000 each drawn on the Cleveland Trust Co.

Trains Derail in Ohio, Spill Oats, Wine, Etc.

By The Associated Press

URBANA, O., April 28 — A freight train derailment spilled oats, flour, canned milk, wine and horseradish over the Pennsylvania railroad right-of-way today near Westville, five miles west of here.

Twelve cars of a 68-car train, enroute from Chicago to Harrisburg, Pa., went off the track. Three of them overturned down an embankment. No one was injured.

Truman Gains Hefty Backing in 2 States

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28—President Truman passed the halfway mark today in the number of delegates needed to give him the Democratic presidential nomination.

With the hefty Pennsylvania and Massachusetts vote behind him, the President apparently is in a position to shrug off—if he chooses—internal party moves to cast him aside.

There is no such clear sailing ahead for any Republican presidential aspirant at this point. But Harold E. Stassen's surprise showing in Pennsylvania's write-in contest yesterday provided a new demonstration of his voter appeal.

The former Minnesota governor, who ran last in a seven-man field four years ago, was leading New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the easy 1944 winner.

The outcome, however, will not be binding on the state's 73-man delegation. It is expected to give favorite son support to Senator Edward Martin.

All Over but Shouting

As for Mr. Truman, Senator Hatch (D-NM) told a reporter he thinks it's all over but the shouting.

"I don't believe anybody can stop the President from getting the nomination unless he, himself, should decide that he doesn't want it," the New Mexico senator said. He added that he doesn't look for any such decision.

However, Senator Pepper (D-Fla), who earlier had said he too considered Mr. Truman's nomination almost certain, caused some eyebrow raising with a statement that he is "glad to see so many" delegate candidates in Florida backing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Pepper said Eisenhower "would make a great president," adding that the Philadelphia convention in July should nominate "the best available Democrat." Florida names its delegates May 4.

The 110 convention votes Pennsylvania and Massachusetts gave Mr. Truman in delegate-picking primaries yesterday brought to 340 the number backing him out of 470 chosen thus far. It takes 618 to nominate.

Politicians looked for the Massachusetts slate — officially unpledged—to line up behind the President.

Answers Attacks

Friends of Mr. Truman pointed to his delegate total as the best answer to such attacks as the one leveled by Emil Rieve, head of the CIO Textile Workers.

Rieve told his union's meeting in Atlantic City yesterday that the President "has failed as a leader of the liberal forces and should eliminate himself as a candidate."

The union leader suggested that if Eisenhower won't yield to a draft the Democrats should look elsewhere. He mentioned Justice William O. Douglas as a possibility.

However, Gael Sullivan, Democratic national committee director, said recently that Douglas may prefer to remain on the supreme court.

As an indication that he isn't thinking of quitting the presidential race, the President made another pre-convention speaking date, at Girard college in Philadelphia, on May 20. This will precede his trip to the west coast early in June.

On the Republican side, talk of Senator Arthur Vandenberg as a compromise candidate was spurred by the surprise speech he made to a group of Michigan businessmen here Monday night.

Vandenberg said this country doesn't propose to sit idly by and become isolated in a world that has been "communized by conquest."

Might Accept Nomination

Some senators said the statements made by the Michigan senator indicated his sentiments are so strong he might be persuaded to accept the GOP nomination if he feels the nation faces a crisis. He has said repeatedly he isn't a candidate.

Actual GOP delegate picking continued, meanwhile, to be outwardly undecisive.

Delaware chooses nine and New Mexico eight uninstructed delegates today. Tennessee probably will give its 22 to Carroll Reece, GOP national chairman, as a favorite son tomorrow. At the same time, the Perry Howard faction in Mississippi will be naming eight expected to back Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft put in a claim yesterday to 17 of Kentucky's 25 delegates chosen previously and left largely uninstructed. Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), his campaign manager, said Taft now is favored by 300 delegates.

That matched the claim made earlier by Stassen, who is out to grab 23 of Ohio's 53 from Taft in next Tuesday's primary there.

Dewey Ahead

The score sheet still showed Dewey ahead in delegates publicly pledged or claimed without challenge.

With 606 of the 1,094 GOP delegates named, Dewey has 125, Stassen 59, Den. Douglas MacArthur 8, and 213 publicly are free agents.

In the favorite son field besides Pennsylvania's 73 for Senator Martin, Massachusetts is prepared to contribute its 35 to Senator Leverett Saltonstall or some other Bay state leader.

Previously Illinois had indicated its 52 will go to Gov.

HANDS STASSEN NEW DEAL TAG

Sen. Taft Says Former Minnesota Governor's Policies Like Roosevelt's.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 28—Sen. Robert A. Taft again hung a New Deal tag on Harold E. Stassen and headed back into industrial northeastern Ohio where the former Minnesota governor has campaigned intensively.

Stassen is contesting for 23 of Ohio's 53 Republican presidential delegates in the May 4 primary.

Stassen, Taft said in a talk here last night, "has spoken all over the country for the past two years, but he has never taken any vigorous position against the basic New Deal principles of spending and federal control—the policies which are the heart of the New Deal and would lead to a completely regimented state.

"Hardly Mentioned Economy"

"Since Mr. Stassen has hardly ever mentioned the importance of economy in government or the independence of local self-government, he has not really excited any opposition from New Dealers, and he has today the support of nearly all the columnists and writers who supported Mr. Roosevelt."

Taft asserted people have turned from New Deal principles in the last 15 years and added: "Mr. Stassen is against Mr. Truman, apparently, but he is not against Mr. Roosevelt.

"It was always rather difficult to tell whether there was any substantial difference between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Stassen, either on foreign or domestic policy."

The Ohio senator virtually accused Stassen of lacking knowledge about issues the former Minnesota governor discussed in northeastern Ohio only last week.

"Lacks Knowledge"

"He (Stassen) has taken no part in development of the Republican program which has already been adopted (by congress) and he does not seem familar with the measures which are now being worked out in many specific fields," Taft said.

For that reason Taft said he considered it best "to choose one of those who have made the record, to make the fight."

Taft prepared to meet members of his party and newsmen at Wooster this morning after motoring there.

He speaks at Wooster, New Philadelphia, Alliance and Canton during the day and will fly to Toledo Thursday for a day's campaigning in the ninth district where his delegates have Stassen opposition.

Hail, Rain and Winds Damage Ohio Areas

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 28—Hail, rain and rushing wind damaged widely separated areas of Ohio yesterday.

One storm beat a path from Springfield southeast to Jeffersonville near Washington C. H. Heavy rain preceded hail which was reported a foot deep in spots.

Farmers said some wheat fields were damaged. At Springfield three airplanes were hard hit and several trees damaged garages and houses.

At Cleveland a hail storm accompanied by heavy rain flooded streets and cut off all telephone circuits to suburban Avon and some lines to Oberlin and Chardon.

Tom Breneman, Radio Comic, Dies Shortly Before Broadcast

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, April 28—Tom Breneman, who turned odd hats, orchids and kisses for old ladies into a toy-flight radio program, dropped dead of a heart attack today. He was 47 year old.

He had just finished breakfast, and was preparing to leave for the studio for his early morning broadcast, said his wife, former stage actress Billie Dunn. She said she heard a thud, and found him lying on the floor of his Encino bedroom.

Breneman only recently returned to the air after a months' vacation at Palm Springs, ordered by his doctor because of a slight heart condition.

Shocked at His Death

More than 600 persons, gathered for his broadcast in a new restaurant on Vine street which he opened only a few months ago, were shocked at the news of his passing.

Breneman, prematurely gray, was a particular favorite of elderly ladies, who made "Breakfast in Hollywood" a favorite stopping place whenever they came to Hollywood. The program was sold out for weeks in advance.

One of the features of his broadcast was presentation of an orchid to the oldest feminine member of the audience. He had a chatty, home-town appproach which in nine years had built the program to top-rating among audience participation shows.

Matrons, young and old alike, enjoyed being kidded about their hats. He awarded prizes for the strangest creations, and only recently entered the business of selling women's hats through his own firm.

Daughter, Son Survive

In addition to his widow, Breneman is survived by a daughter, Gloria, 19, and a son, Tom Jr., 14.

Born in Waynesboro, Pa., he attended Columbia university for a time, then went on the stage as a member of a black face act called Tom and Wash. He came to Hollywood about 20 years ago.

He was honorary mayor of Encino, and a constant booster of the little San Fernando valley community. His patrons began standing in line at 6 a. m., long before the broadcast. The $1.50 they paid for breakfast and the show helped put his income in the six-figure bracket.

Today's shocked guests were given refunds, but many left the money on tables to buy flowers. The program was cancelled, and the American Broadcasting Co. said a memorial tribute would be arranged later in the day.

Mercury Car Prices Increase Up to $420

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 28—Price increases ranging from $315 to $420 on the 1949 model Mercury automobile were announced today by the Ford Lincoln-Mercury division.

List prices on the new models, which go on display tomorrow, are: six passenger coupe $1,855; sport sedan $1,875; six passenger convertible $2,225 and station wagon $2,495.

The $315 increase is on the six-passenger coupe and the $420 advance is on the station wagon.

Benson Ford, director of the Lincoln-Mercury division, announcing the price advances said: "The 1949 Mercury is an all new automobile designed expressly to serve a higher quality market than heretofore."

The prices do not include optional equipment, transportation charges or local and state taxes.

2 JAILED AFTER POLICE SEIZE GUNS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 28—Two men who said they were members of the Zionist Youth movement were jailed today after police uncovered a cache of ammunition and arms, including 200 rifles and revolvers, in a raid on an industrial building on Manhattan's west side.

Police said one of the men identified himself as Joseph Untermeyer, 19, son of author-editor Louis Untermeyer. They listed his companion as Isiah Warsaw, 30-year-old watchmaker's apprentice. The two were booked on charges of violating the Sullivan anti-weapon law.

Raiding officers said some of the arms and ammunition were wrapped in packages addressed to individuals in Palestine. The store was found on the fifth floor of the building. Some of the rifles were hidden in a Navy sea bag.

Shortly after the arrests, a woman who authorities said identified herself as Mrs. Esther Antin Untermeyer, wife of Louis Untermeyer, went to the police station where the two men were held.

POLICEMAN INDICTED ON BRIBERY CHARGES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 28—Ernest L. Molnar, former police lieutenant recently fired from the force, was to be arraigned today on grand jury charges that he accepted more than $35,000 in bribes from two policy operators.

The 11-count indictment returned yesterday accused him of soliciting and accepting the amounts between 1939 and 1947.

A veteran of 25 years on the force, Molnar was suspended last month along with Police Sgt. Richard P. Ford and Patrolman William P. Myers on charges of association with policy racketeers.

Molnar's discharge was upheld by the Civil Service Commission, but the other two policemen yesterday were ordered reinstated to their jobs.

The indictment said Molnar took the money "to influence him with respect to his official duties as a lieutenant of police in enforcing the laws of the State of Ohio and ordinances of the city, particularly the laws against gambling."

LISBON, O., April 28 — A month-old baby girl, wrapped in two blankets, was found abandoned on a doorstep, police reported yesterday.

DATE FIXED AS PAY TALKS COME TO END

Mediation Board Will Make New Effort To Avert Nationwide Tieup.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 28—May 11 was set today for a nationwide railroad strike.

The date for the start of the walkout of 150,000 union members was made public in Cleveland while union spokesmen were preparing a formal announcement of the date in Chicago.

The strike will start at 6 a. m. on May 11, the Cleveland sources said.

The strike would paralyze the country's transportation system by pulling locomotive engineers, firemen and enginemen and switchmen off the jobs. Two years ago a strike cut off rail service for two days until President Truman intervened.

What legal steps might be undertaken to head off the crippling walkout remain a question. The wage dispute between the unions and the nation's class one railroads has passed through all steps of machinery set up under the national railway labor act.

Railroad workers are excluded from coverage by the Taft-Hartley law. Hence the government cannot ask for an anti-strike injunction as it did recently against John L. Lewis' coal miners.

There was no immediate word from the White House whether Mr. Truman might step into the dispute as he did in May, 1946.

Hopes of averting the strike, which would paralyze the country's railroad system, faded last night. Union and rail officials, who have been meeting for the last two weeks in efforts to settle their six months old wage dispute, broke up their meeting shortly before midnight.

Last midnight was the deadline set by the unions for setting a strike date if an agreement had not been reached. The unions and carriers have exhausted all remedies provided in the railway labor act for avoiding a walkout.

Plan No Further Talks

In Cleveland, David B. Robertson, president of the firemen, said that once the strike date is set there is no reason why negotiations should not continue. However, there was no indication that further wage talks were planned.

Yesterday was the end of a 30-day cooling off period following a report by a presidential fact-finding board. The unions had rejected the board's recommendation of a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour. The carriers, which estimated the pay boosts would add $80,000,0000 a year to their added costs, accepted the report.

The unions last Oct. 7 had asked a 30 per cent pay hike with a minimum raise of $3 a day and changes in working rules. Two other operating brotherhoods, the railway trainmen and railway conductors, had accepted the 18½ cents an hour boost offered by the carriers. Earlier, about 1,000,000 non-operating rail workers in 16 unions also accepted the 15½ cents hourly wage increase.

Mediators To Make New Peace Effort

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28—The national mediation board decided today to make a new attempt to head off the threatened railroad strike May 11.

It scheduled a meeting in Chicago Thursday with the railroads and disputing unions in an effort to mediate wage controversy.

Board Chairman Frank Douglass told a news conference all other procedures under the railway labor act has been exhausted.

"This is the last thing we can do as a board," Douglass added.

The agency first had attempted to arbitrate the dispute. Then it asked President Truman to appoint an emergency board to investigate.

The emergency board recommended a 15½ cent hourly wage increase but that was rejected by the three brotherhoods involved.

Douglass said that he and mediation board member Francis A. O'Neill will leave for Chicago tonight and meet with the parties at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

BOWMAN SUSPENDS FOUR

KENT, O., April 28 — Four members of Kent State university's variety production, "Pork Barrel"—all masters of ceremonies—were out of school indefinitely today. President George A. Bowman said the university suspended the students indefinitely for "offenses against good taste." The action, he said, was based on between-act jokes. Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

RAPID CITY, S. D.

WESTERN hospitality isn't the White Man's invention. It's an old Sioux custom.

But the grandsons of Sitting Bull's warriors carry it so far they are eating one another out of tent and tepee.

The old Sioux rule is: "Share what ever you have equally with your brother." And everybody in the tribe is a brother.

It wasn't a bad rule in the old days when tribesmen hunted the buffalo together and divided the kill. But the principle doesn't work out so well since the white man came and changed the pattern of their roaming life.

Hal Boyle

The Sioux tribesmen, gaining in numbers after a long decline, have overflowed their reservations—the thin pastures, left them by their conquerors. They are leaving by the hundreds to find work in the white man's cities to earn food.

Here's the hitch:

As soon as one Sioux finds a job all the others in the neighborhood move in to share his good fortune. They eat him down to their level, and then the whole bunch moves on to the next Sioux with a sou.

"Nobody cares who pays," said Mrs. Ellen Donovan, county nurse, "they just eat until the food is gone, they would share it with anybody—even with us. They live altogether for today, and have no care for tomorrow."

Mrs. Donovan and Dr. Ben Sedelaeck, superintendent of the Sioux sanitorium, have a strong sympathy for the Indians who have had to leave their own reservations in order to stay alive.

BUT THEY WORRY over health conditions among 2,500 Indians who have set up camps along Rapid Creek, which threads through this trade center for the Black Hills area. The tuberculosis rate is high.

Last winter every child in the Indian camp had pneumonia.

"They don't complain," said Dr. Sedelaeck. "They don't even ask for a doctor until the sick Indian is so far gone we often can't do anything for him."

The Sioux left the warpath only 50 years ago. Their camps here are a sorry compromise between their old nomadic life and modern sanitation. There is no such thing as indoor sanitation. And beef entrails hang drying from tree limbs.

THE CHILDREN ARE DIRTY. The camp areas are living dump heaps. Their ancestors were a clean and healthy people. When their camping site became fouled, they moved on. The Sioux of today can't do that. And if he could move on he probably wouldn't. He likes to stay where he can see the bright lights and gawk at the tourists.

And, of course, he has to live close to the places where he can sell his labor—sawmills, packing plants, construction jobs.

For all their poverty they are a happy people who stoically conceal their pain—Sioux women commonly don't even call in a midwife in childbirth. At one camp I asked one wrinkled old drone why she laughed so much.

"Some day I'll be dead and won't be here," she replied through an interpreter. "So while I am I like to have fun."

MOST SIOUX HAVE NO racial prejudice toward the white man and feel no resentment toward him for taking their rich homeland.

But they don't like at least one of his restrictions. Federal law prohibits the sale of liquor to Indians. In practice this works out so a Sioux can't buy a drink in a bar but has no difficulty finding someone who will sell him a whole bottle. This they gulp down fast to conceal the evidence.

One Indian put it this way:

"We can't buy a drink—but we can buy a drunk."

(This is the first of two columns on the Sioux)

STATE REP. SIMPSON HEALTH BILL BACKER

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 22 — Hardin county today had received the sum of $4,582.50 as its share in the first distribution of money under the provisions of House Bill 114 which calls for state assistance to counties in providing hospital care to persons suffering from tuberculosis.

The funds received here represent the first half 1947 payments. Hardin county will receive between $9,000 and $10,000 annually under the program.

The measure which passed the last legislature was jointly sponsored in the House by the Hardin county representative Jean E. Simpson and Arthur W. Fiske of Cuyahoga county. The bill was originally sponsored by the House Republican leadership, and was favored by one speaker, William O'Neil.

This represents the first time that the state has participated in the TB program on an aid-to-counties basis. It provides great financial relief; counties previously have had to finance the program with local funds.

Mr. Simpson and the other supporters received high commendation from the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health association. He has worked hard and long in the interest of tuberculosis control. In 1941 his efforts resulted in long-needed recodification of the tuberculosis laws. This work opened the door for hospitals to accept patients previously turned away, and made possible research facilities and the carrying-on of a wider and more effective program of treatment.

House Bill 113, sponsored by Fiske and Simpson, passed at the same time as the bill calling for state financial aid to counties, provided for 1,100 new hospital beds in five state institutions. The two measures, Bills 113 and 114, will mean approximately $1,500,000 in funds for various tuberculosis hospitals to increase their facilities for the handling of more patients and more effective control and treatment.

500 Luther Leaguers Attend Spring Rally

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 27—Nazareth Junior Luther league of Chatfield received the attendance banner with 91.6 attendance when approximately 500 Luther Leaguers from the New Washinton federation were entertained at the spring rally in Good Hope Lutheran church here this week.

Replacing Gilbert Green, who resigned as district president, Herman Selbert of Sulphur Springs was advanced from the first vice presidency.

The federation accepted an invitation from Martin Luther church west of Bucyrus for the fall rally scheduled for the first Sunday in October. Bethlehem Lutheran church of Attica was welcomed into the federation, transferring from the Fremont district.

Speakers were Rev. F. LeRoy Sarver of St. Paul church, Upper Sandusky, and Rev. Charles Mullen of Zion church, Moraine City. General theme of the rally was "A Leaguer, and Proud of It."

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Vague Symptoms of Disorder That is Easily Relieved

Sometimes a woman in her thirties or early forties will worry unduly about her health before she begins to feel so tired. Not only does she lack her usual energy but she suffers a good deal of annoyance due to absent-mindedness. The chances are that she will also have noticed a change in her skin and hair—a trouble-some and excessive dryness—but usually she will not connect this with her other symptoms unless she goes to a doctor.

Unfortunately, many such women do not seek medical aid and that is a pity because their condition is so easily corrected if it is due to a lack of secretion from the thyroid gland. And this ailment can easily be relieved by the giving of thyroid extract.

This condition is called hypothyroidism. Babies are sometimes born with this disturbance, but it can develop at any time of life. We have not discovered exactly what causes it, but we do know that it is most likely to occur in women between 30 and 40 years of age.

The symptoms, of course, vary according to the severity of the deficiency. When there is great lack of secretion from the thyroid gland, the patient develops what is known as myxedema. The skin is pale, slightly yellow, and dry. The eyelids are puffy, and the face has little expression. The lips and the tongue are large and the voice coarse. The hands and feet are often swollen, and the hair is dry and scanty.

Some patients are overweight, but others are exceptionally thin. The heart rate is slow and the blood pressure either normal or low.

In the less severe cases, the symptoms may only be such things as a feeling of tiredness, dryness of the skin, lack of energy and absentmindedness.

Many such women have disturbances of the regular periods. They may have hot flashes and pain in the lower part of the abdomen. Others may complain of sickness to the stomach, vomiting, excessive gas in the bowel, or constipation.

It is fortunate that there is a test known as the basal metabolism test that is quite helpful in detecting hypothyroidism. This test is carried out by having the patient breathe through a tube connected with a tank and measuring the amount of oxygen used up in a given period of time. When the metabolic rate is below normal, it indicates that there is a lack of thyroid secretion. In most patients who develop symptoms of hypothyroidism, the basal metabolism will be more than 20 per cent below average.

Another symptom of hypothyroidism is anemia or lessening of the number of red cells or the coloring in the blood.

Perhaps the best method for diagnosing hypothyroidism is to give thyroid extract and note whether or not the patient responds to the treatment. If the giving of the thyroid extract relieves the symptoms, then it is fairly certain that the symptoms were due to the lack of thyroid secretion.

Of course, thyroid extract should only be used under the doctor's direction in the dose which he prescribes. Large doses are rarely necessary, and they often prove dangerous. When treatment with thyroid extract is started, patients with hypothyroidism usually show improvement within two weeks.

Questions and Answers

A. V. About two and one-half hours after every meal I have a period of physical and mental sluggishness. What would you suggest?

A. It is impossible to state just why this conditions exists without a thorough study. There are many possibilities, such as thyroid deficiency, overeating, lack of exercise, and some disturbance in the way sugar is used by the body. Until the cause is found, proper treatment cannot be suggested.

CONSERVATION HAS RURAL COOPERATION

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 28—According to Robert E. Sweigard, chairman of the Wyandot county agricultural conservation program, 75 per cent of all the farms in Wyandot county will cooperate in the 1948 agricultural conservation program. This amount is a total of 1713 Wyandot county farms.

A check of these farm plans also shows that limestone has been selected by more farmers than any other to meet the conservation problem on the farms. Other leading practices included in farmers' plans this year are fertilizer on meadows, pasture or new seedings of clover or alfalfa.

According to S. C. Cashman, Wyandot county agricultural agent, the wheat crop looks very favorable and is quite evenly developed, except for occasional spots where the water laid too long. Mr. Cashman states that more damage was done in the spring than in the winter. Some of the wheat was planted as late as the third of October. Fly-free date in this county is September 26.

A very small percentage of the farmers did fall plowing; the farmers who have waxy land try to do fall plowing. The last few days found conditions more favorable, and farmers are running the tractors day and night. There is plenty of seed corn to supply the demand, although the quality is far below the standard, Mr. Cashman says. Most every farmer using the temporary silo this last winter in storing corn, express satisfaction with them.

In a most recent survey, the amount of sugar beet acreage contracted is about one-half of the amount contracted last year. The tomato acreage is 15 or 20 per cent less. Due to the cut in the acreage of these sideline crops, the need for transit labor will be less.

The fruit trees in this section were damaged considerably during the last winter, either by wind or the cold; a large percentage of trees died. An examination of apple trees locally reveals that the rosy apply aphid is prevalent on the new leaves.

GALION POWER RATE HIKE MEASURE READ

Special to The Star

GALION, April 28—An emergency ordinance to raise the electric light rates of consumers of the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant, was given a first reading at an adjourned meeting of city council Tuesday night. New rates, recommended recently to council by John F. Porter, service-safety director, have been studied by council members for the last three weeks.

The domestic rate will raise the present minimum charge of 50 cents on the basis of three cents for the first 100 KWH, to 75 cents for the first kilowatt hours consumed. Charge for the next 45 KWH under the new rate is four cents, while the next 50 KWH will cost three cents, and the next 100 KWH will be two cents per KWH. All over 300 KWH will cost .015 per KWH. Consumers have been paying three cents per KWH for the first 100 KWH and two and one-half cents for the next 2,400 KWH and one one-half cents for all over 2,500 KWH.

One clause of the ordinance establishes a bonus system for the industrial consumer based upon a power factor of 85 per cent, with a bonus given to the consumer above the 85 per cent power factor, while a penalty will be given for below 85 per cent power factor. An inspection clause in the ordinance provides that all users of electricity must comply with the National Electrical Code of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and such state and municipal regulations as may be in effect.

Music Festival Held At Forest Lawn

The annual Vernon Heights Junior High school music festival was presented Monday night before approximately 200 parents as the final program for the P.-T.A. Each of the school's music organizations participated in the event, with a total of about 120 pupils taking part.

A short business meeting in charge of Charles Ulrich, president, followed. Officers for the new school year were introduced by Mr. Ulrich as follows: Mrs. John Rinnert, president, Mrs. John Courtright, first vice president, Cecil W. Gabler, second vice president, Mrs. Charles J. Smith, secretary, R. K. Beal, treasurer, and Mrs. J. M. Creazer, City P.-T.A. Council representative.

Plans were made for the unit to sponsor the annual ninth grade party and the luncheon for teachers June 2.

The musical program opened with three numbers by the Vernon band. They were "Tune-In Overture" by Davis, "Sunset Reverie" by Chennette, and "Normal March" by Bennett. The orchestra played a march, "Pomp and Chivalry" by Roberts, and "East of Suez" by Strebor. A violin quartet, composed of Phyllis Huffman, Joan Clark, Joanna Jacobs and John Goff, played two numbers, "Play Gypsy, Dance Gypsy" Kalman, and "Lover Come Back to Me" by Romberg. These groups are directed by Homer Huffman.

"The Wiffenpoof Song" was presented by the ninth grade boys' octette, and the ninth grade girls' ensemble sang "Blessing" by Pearl Curran. The combined ensembles sang "Turn Ye To Me," a Cain arrangement. George Lane directs these organizations.

The seventh and eighth grade mixed chorus, under the direction of William Dowler, sang "The Burro Song" by W. B. Olds, "Song of the Statuette" by Klemm, "Rocky Hills" by Franz Bornschein, and "The Rowing Song" by Grace Florering.

An American Story

WILLIAM S. KNUDSEN was another of those men with unusual mechanical aptitude, organizational genius and business acumen who brought the automotive industry to its present pre-eminence.

This young bicycle mechanic who emigrated from Denmark was a shipyard and railroad shop worker, then a factory stock room keeper, before he began his rise to positions of greater responsibility, first as a mill superintendent, then as a Ford Motor Co.'s supervisor of plant construction. His later years with General Motors and his wartime service as a lieutenant general in charge of production for the war department rounded out a notable career.

William Knudsen was a man of modest beginnings and no formal technical education. Yet because of his ability to utilize his self-acquired knowledge he became a national industrial leader and the director of an important phase of our war effort. His story is one of the e that could be told only in America.

Limited Preparedness

SECRETARY of Defense Forrestal, observing that if national defense were to be left entirely to military men they'd "fortify the moon," has used a memorable phrase that tells more about the real issue in Washington than a 500-page book.

It's the issue of limited vs unlimited preparedness. It rises from the American habit of rushing from one extreme to the other in the matter of military preparation. When World War II was over, the inclination was toward demobilization. The inclination now is toward mobilization.

Inevitably, the military tendency is to go as far as possible. One more "all-out" war like the last one would leave the United States exhausted by its own extremism. The military men obtained not only everything they needed, which was a vast amount, but nearly everything they wanted, which was still more. They filled the pipelines to overflowing and asked for more. They so firmly established the credo that production was needed to win the war that in many instances production became an end unto itself.

The United States cannot afford to waste production. Someone must draw a line, the "someone" apparently is Secretary Forrestal, among the civilian officials of the fighting services.

No One Wants War

"IN SPITE of all evidence to the contrary the things that divide the world are trivial as compared with the things that united it," writes Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, in his final report before retiring next July. "In all the countries which representatives of the Foundation have visited over these recent years, one outstanding fact has emerged: the people are dominated by a passionate hope for peace, security and a better life. They seek a world in which men may grow in strength and dignity. They want no world in which war periodically tears to pieces the bright promise of the future. That is the pattern of thinking and planning everywhere. Men differ as to the means by which these ends are to be secured, but as to the goal itself there is little diversity of opinion."

Rockefeller Foundation funds are being used in the postwar world to ease exchange of knowledge and to find rallying points for international unity. It spent $23,413,615 during 1947. This was a pittance, Dr. Fosdick points out, for overcoming the forces threatening to black out the "bright promise of the future." Only collective national action could do the job properly. He sees what many others are aware of and are trying to say—that if governments were to spend as much to stop war as they spend ot fight the wars they do not stop, the common goal of mankind would be attainable. Only the United States has dared to try it, in the Marshall plan, whose high purpose may be subverted by preparation for the possibility of the very war it aims to prevent.

Cancer Progress

THE atomic energy commission's announcement that cobalt can be irradiated to serve as a radium substitute represents an important medical discovery.

Being comparatively plentiful, while the natural radium output for a year is only 26 ounces, cobalt will replace radium in cancer experiments. Cobalt 60, the name given the irradiated mineral, is effective for only five years but its penetrating power is 2,500,000 X-ray volts compared to 190,000 for radium.

Two other significant announcements have been made this month as the fight on cancer progresses. The American College of Surgeons has received information on important discoveries concerning radioactive isotopes made at the University of California. In New York, the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research reports the development of antibodies that curb certain types of cancer in animals.

Such reports give promise that the day is coming when the mysteries of cancer will have been solved

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

ERP Deserves Close Watch of American People.

WHETHER it is called ERP or ECA, the American people, at a time of shortages, are making a tremendous contribution to the peoples of 16 nations, plus China, Western Germany and Japan. It will all be paid by taxation, by relieving the American people of a share of their earnings.

The fact that Paul Hoffman has been authorized to expend billions of dollars does not mean that he must spend it all. In fact, after a few days in office, Mr. Hoffman took the position that the authorization was insufficient. This Mr. Hoffman could not know because the basis for his figures were estimates drawn by the state department eight or nine months ago and much has happened in between to justify a revision of those estimates.

SOKOLSKY

Naturally, the state department cannot be trusted to revise its own figures, because that would involve them in an admission that they could make an error, which they don't do—even when they permitted the secretary of state to walk into a revolution at Bogota.

Also, Averell Harriman is not to be trusted to revise those figures, unless there is a desire to have them revised upward. For Mr. Harriman was so long associated with the philosophy of Harry Hopkins that spending the American people's earnings seems to have become a habit.

As a matter of good taste, I do not believe that anyone associated with the infamies of Teheran and Yalta ought to be permitted to do any more harm to the United States. Their excuse that they had to do what they did at Teheran and Yalta and later at San Francisco and Potsdam is that they make a law of necessity, after declaring the nature of the necessity.

Coffee and Tobacco

Yet we must return to some of the ERP matters, particularly coffee and tobacco, for which the American people ought not to pay in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars to keep Europe happy and contented. It is understandable that we are willing to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, house the dispossessed. But do we have to give them coffee and tobacco, too?

Mr. Hoffman might eliminate those with no harm done. He might—and congress might, too—insist that ERP shall not pay higher prices for commodities anywhere than are paid for the same in the United States. The Argentine, for instance, does not mind what it charges the United States for American charity to Europe. In a word, we might save another few hundred millions—maybe as much as half a billion dollars—if we refuse to pay the Argentine's fancy prices.

Furthermore, two facts ought to interest Mr. Hoffman. One is that experts estimate that the European food crops in the 1948 harvest will amount to about eight to 10 million tons more than in 19497. Also that Europe notes a neat progress in industrial production. The Bevin plan figures ought to be revised in relationship with these advantageous figures.

No Harm in Saving

It will do no harm if we can save a billion or so. Mr. Hoffman's estimate that $5,300,000,000 is not enough conforms with my estimate of him before his appointment to this position. I said at the time: "Clayton, Hoffman and Johnston are big spenders who would probably end up by asking for more. I, as one citizen, have no confidence in their capacity to resist European, particularly British, blandishments." But I did not believe that he would ask for more four or five days after he took office and before he had an opportunity to study the problem or to have the state department figures analyzed.

For instance, the original ERP called for the shipment of tractors from this country to Europe where agriculture is not geared to tractors and fuel is frightfully scarce and expensive. It would make more sense to propagate draft horses and oxen—to which the European farmer is more accustomed—and it would probably do his land more good.

Mr. Hoffman needs advice and it ought to be given to him plentifully by the taxpayer whose agent he is. A billion or so saved will do just as much good in America as in Europe.

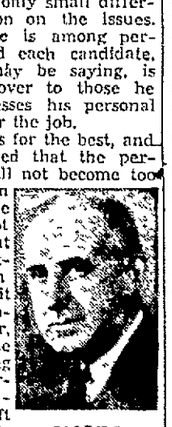
The Issue Is Personal

By RAYMOND MOLEY

ALTHOUGH the campaign for the Republican nomination is getting very warm, the articulate candidates — Taft, Dewey and Stassen—reveal only small differences of opinion on the issues. The real choice is among personalities. And each candidate, whatever he may be saying, is trying to get over to those he meets or addresses his personal qualifications for the job.

Perhaps this is for the best, and it may be hoped that the personal appeal will not become too personal; in short, that the rivals will not get to the point of personal attacks on each other. So far, it has been a gentlemanly affair, with none of the name - calling which characterized the T. R - William H. Taft primary fights in 1912.



MOLEY

The general agreement on principle among the Republican aspirants once more reveals how greatly the public really makes issues. Stassen, Dewey and Taft are trying to sell themselves to a vastely conglomerate public. One day Stassen may be addressing a group of extremely conservative businessmen. The next day, he maybe speaking to a group of farmers who once belonged to the Non-Partisan league. In all cases he is concerned with the general impression he leaves. It is much the same with Taft and, to a lesser degree, with Dewey. Candidates for a nomination do not ordinarily raise broad issues of policy. They hesitate to divide their party.

In the present state of the campaign, the real business is being done behind the scenes. Unless the Stassen momentum becomes sufficient to start a pre-convention stampede, the three candidates will, on the first ballot, have in all less than 700 votes, and no one will be within 150 or more of a majority. Second choices are being eagerly, even desperately sought. Managers of all candidates are hunting out delegates and state leaders and working on them with all the persuasiveness of lightning-rod salesmen. A good many king-makers not officially attached to any camp are abroad in the land, working for various candidates, including some not-so-dark, or perhaps we should say gray horses like Martin and Vandenberg.

Among the publishers and editors assembled in New York last week there was unlimited talk of the Republican candidates. One would be foolish to generalize too much about such a vast assortment of opinions. But it is clear that when the clans gather in Philadelphia there will be several favorite sons who will passionately believe they have a chance. It is also clear that both Martin and Vandenberg are really bitten with the Presidential bug.

It is becoming more and more clear that the convention may see proiracted trial runs. In other words, after the leaders seem to be at a halt, there will be trials for Vandenberg and possibly Martin. If the leaders hold firm, these trials, it is said, will fail. Then will come a series of trial runs for favorite sons—perhaps for Green of Illinois, Baldwin of Connecticut, Warren of California and others, and even for some governors who are not now favorite sons. If that skirmishing fails to produce a candidate, the swing may go back to the leaders.

Hence, the leaders — Stassen, Taft and Dewey—are taking no chances now on alienating any powerful interest. And hence the tendency now on the part of all articulate candidates to raise no real differences of opinion.

The Female on the Specie?

It has been suggested that women's faces be placed on our national currency.

Women have invaded business, politics and the corner saloon. But who thought to see the day Betty Grable would shove Abe Lincoln off the $5 bill?

The proposal opens the door to a nationwide controversy: Should our currency honor he who makes —or she who spends—it?

There are numerous arguments against the idea. For one thing, it would be very expensive, having to call all the money back in and re-issue new currency every time the styles changed.

Of course, it might help in the fight against inflation. The average citizen might be more inclined to hold on to his money if it were embelished with the profile of Lana Turner.

Then too, if it ever gets to the place we are peppering our walls with money, it would at least give us some ready-made pin-ups.

An Ohio Shrine

Although Ohio ranks fifth in the number of World War II dead, it has no national cemetery. Representative Walter E. Brehm of Logan pointed out in Congress the other day in announcing that he would seek such a cemetery for the state. He said he had conferred with Gen. T. B. Larkin, the quartermaster general, who agreed Ohio should have a national cemetery and suggested a 200-acre tract be sought.

Representative Brehm said he believed a historic or scenic location would be more desirable than a location chosen because it is near the center of the state.

Speaking of possible sites, he pointed out that Somerset, Perry county, was the home of Gen. Sheridan and Fairfield County the home of Gen. Sherman. Hocking county has scenic attractions such as Rock House, Cantwell Cliffs, Ash Cave, Old Man's Cave and Conkle's Hollow. Ross county has Chillicothe, rich in history. Mount Logan, which is associated with Ohio's great seal, has scenic environs, and four early Ohio governors are buried in the vicinity.

Representative Brehm said he hoped to hear from civic clubs and veterans' organizations with suggestions as to the site.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, April 28, 1938.

Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, in Columbus, summoned a special grand jury to investigate political campaign fund solicitations from state civil service employes after seven workers refused to answer questions of Duffy's assistants.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $3,000 at the home of Melvin West on Uncapher avenue.

Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks closed the season with a dinner dance for 250 members and guests in the lodge hall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Reynolds of King avenue were hosts for a joint meeting of the Marion Branch of the Railway Mail association and auxiliary. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Erskine were associate host and hostess.

Maxine Darling was elected president of the Busy Bee class of Fite Memorial Baptist Sunday school at the home of the assistant teacher, Mrs. Glen Riddle of Fies avenue.

Mrs. Mattie B. Dugan of South Vine street and her niece, Miss Una Burklew of Mt. Gilead returned from Washington, D. C. where Mrs. Dugan attended sessions of the D.A.R. congress held in Continental hall.

Lightning struck the barn on the Willard Stoffer farm east of Denmark, destroying the building and livestock valued at $1,000.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 28, 1928.

Announcement was made that the guard detachment of the Tenth U. S. Infantry, which had been on duty for nearly five years at the tomb of President and Mrs. Harding would end its term of service on May 1 with the members returning to various army posts. Lieut. Walter Lee Sherfey, commanding officer, was to report to Fort Thomas, Ky.

A slight increase was shown in the week's total of building permits with the construction projects estimated at $5,470.

More than 500 Knights of Pythias from five counties attended a district meeting at the quarters of Marion Lodge No. 402. Speakers were Charles Root, grand chancellor of Newark; Ralph Williamson, grand junior warden of the Odd Fellows encampment and past chancellor of Marion Lodge of K. of P.; James H. Ramey of Marion, commander of the Ohio brigade, Uniform Rank, K. of P., and Judge A. W. Agler of Canton, grand outer guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Uhl and son, Donald and Mrs. Uhl's mother, Mrs. Jennie Austin, returned to their home in the Cowan apartments after spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Walter Smith entertained the J.D.E.M. club at her home on Bellefontaine avenue honoring her husband on his birthday anniversary.

Miss Ruth Bloomingdale and Harry C. Mosier of Ashland were united in marriage at the home of the bride on South Greenwood street by Rev. H. L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Getting Down To Business

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE numerous and as yet ill-founded rumors of such dramatic events as a Washington meeting between Messrs. Marshall, Bevin and Bidault are froth on the surface of a vitally important tide. The crucial stage has been reached, in fact, in the effort to work out an enduring political and strategic relationship between Europe and this hemisphere.

Joseph Alsop

As usual, the facts are considerably less stirring than the rumors they generate. Two main efforts are now going on. The first effort is to find out what the western Europeans can do to help themselves. The second effort is to find out what Congress will do to help the western Europeans.

The first problem is being tackled in London by the permanent military committee of the western European Union, comprising representatives of the staffs of Britain, France and Benelux countries. From earlier talks, it is already clear that their planning will be aimed at making it eventually possible to hold the line of the Rhine against Soviet attack. But the staffs must now decide which country is to contribute how many divisions; how the equipment is to be standardized; how command is to be unified, and what minimum of aid they will need from the United States.

The second problem, of what congress can be induced to do at this time, has been and is being urgently tackled in talks between representatives of the Administration and the Congressional leaders. The chief men involved are Under Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

Collaborators

Senator Vandenberg and Under Secretary Lovett constitute one of the most collaborative teams the capital has seen for a long time. It is symptomatic of the way they think alike that they had both reached the same conclusion before their first meeting. Independently and without consultation, each had formed the opinion that what they call the "ERP pattern" ought to be followed. The Europeans have therefore been asked to be pretty precise about their own plans for helping themselves, before starting any discussion of American help in this new political-strategic sphere. What is done here is thus partly dependent on the outcome in London.

There are several issues which could cause really violent disagreement in London. For example, Britain and the Benelux countries have already intimated that France should provide the manpower for more than two-thirds of the 45 to 50 divisions thought necessary to hold the Rhine line. It is hard to see how any but French divisions could be in position on the Rhine in time to repel an attack. The British consequently argue that their contribution should be chiefly in the form of air and naval power. But several factors, such as the corporate interests of the French air force and navy, and French memories of limited RAF participation in the Battle of France, are going to make the French fight very hard against acceptance of the British-Benelux concept.

Perils Are Obvious

The perils ahead in London are fairly obvious. The desire of the western Europeans for American military guaranties is so strong, however, that the permanent military committee of the Western Union is expected to reach rather early agreement, at least in principle. If this agreement is not utterly hollow, the time for American action will then have come.

One point is already clear about our action. The Western Europeans have said frankly that in view of the political situation in this country, they would place no reliance on any mere Presidential or Executive declaration. The State Department sympathizes with this position. The President will therefore probably announce the American guaranty of Europe against aggression. But what the President says will be confirmed, at a minimum, by a bi-partisan resolution in the senate.

It occurred to us that it would happen today in this fashion:

1. Paul decides that the enemy is up to something and says so. He is assailed as an alarmist, a reactionary and a fellow trying to disturb his country unduly.

2. He gets some definite news bearing out his suspicions. He is called a warmonger.

3. He gets the cooperation of a friend to a lantern aloft in the belfry arch of old Church to signal him if and how the e moves.

4. Anti-Paul Revere people say sele of this particular church is sectarian Failure to ask lanterns in churches of al nominations brings accusation of intoleran

There's a Trick to It

By TRUMAN TWILL

AGE WAS the subject. There were the desperate chantings—"You're only a as you feel"—"Some people are old at "Remember, life begins at 40."

Walter Pitkin played the meanest trick perpetrated on seekers of the fountain of et youth when he gave his book, "Life B at 40" to the gullible public back there in The phrase wormed its way into the thinki millions of people. It set up a dividing between human beings placidly getting and those passionately wishing they younger. Had he named it "Life Begins a the flickering candle of fading youth have been kept sputtering 15 more years this would have been a happier country.

Age has nothing to do with arithmetic. state of mind. A person ceases to be when he no longer leaves any doubt i minds of persons who are younger that h grown old. A man or a woman unable to m the bubbling-over attitude that is youth's charming and maddening characteristic—or is unable to share it when in its present old, by that token. HOLDS VALID ACTS OF GALION DIRECTOR

Special to The Star

GALION, April 28 — City Auditor Gloyd Frye said today that on the basis of a letter he received late Tuesday from City Solicitor George Davies that he plans to pay the city obligations as vouchers are signed by Service-Safety Director John F. Porter.

The solicitor's letter was in regard as to whether or not the acts of John F. Porter as service-safety director of the city are valid, and reads in part: "My opinion is that he can be considered a de facto officer, and the acts performed are valid, but that said John F. Porter would not be entitled to maintain an action for salary or other compensation pertaining to the office until he qualifies for such."

Porter's legal qualifications to serve as city officers were questioned after a ruling last Thursday in common pleas court on an injunction suit brought by John F. Drouth, Galion taxpayer. The court cited a section of the state general code, effective January 2, which held that legal residence is established by the location of a man or woman's family and that 40 days' residence was required in any city to qualify as an elector. The court granted an injunction which withheld Porter's pay "during the time he is not qualified to hold said office." While Porter came to Galion when he was appointed Feb. 4, his family did not move here until March 30.

Clevelander Elected Executive of Oil Co.

CLEVELAND, O., April 28—Clyde T. Foster, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, has been elected executive vice president of the company, it was announced today by W. T. Holliday, president of the company.

Mr. Foster, who is a native of Cleveland and a graduate of Western Reserve university, completed a course in law after his return from the first World War, in which he served as a first lieutenant; and after serving as counsel to various oil companies, joined the Standard Oil Company in 1929 as assistant manager of service stations.

One traffic accident and one traffic arrest were reported by police during the night. A car owned by Roert Gustin, 654 Mary street, was damaged at 2 a. m. today while parked in front of his home when it was struck by a hit skip driver. John J. Kegan Jr. of 482 Courtland Terrace was cited at 7:26 p. m. last night on Duluth avenue charged with failure to register his car trailer. His trailer was held pending his appearance in court today.

SAWMILL SURVEY STARTED IN AREA

Lumber shortages which have existed since the latter part of the war make the results of the annual sawmill survey of the U. S. Bureau of the Census of prime importance, according to District Supervisor A. B. Down with offices at New Post Office Building, Cleveland, O.

Census enumerators under Supervisor Down's direction have started canvassing sawmills in this area to gather reports of the current sawmill survey which this year is being taken as part of the 1947 census of manufactures. The major part of the manufactures census will be carried out by mail but all sawmills will be visited by Census Bureau field people since it is almost impossible to build up accurate mailing lists for this industry by reason of its mobility and the out-of-way locations of many sawmills.

Figures developed from the sawmill survey will include data on lumber production, value of shipments, number of sawmills, employment, wages, cost of materials and related items. The lumber production information by species will be available by counties, making it especially useful for analyzing local conditions.

Supervisor Down referred to a recent statement by Census Director Capt which pointed out that reporting in the Census of Manufactures is mandatory.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA HOLD DINNER, CARD PARTY

A social affair on the calendar of Our Lady of Victory Circle No. 388, Daughters of Isabella, was the dinner and card party held Monday night in Moira hall. Approximately 150 members, their husbands and friends attended the event arranged as a sweetheart party.

For the dinner the serving table was centered with a low bowl in an aqua shade, filled with lilacs and tulips and at either side were tall tapers in crystal holders.

Awards in cards were won by Mrs. George Kelly and Dan Schelb, euchre, Mrs. Joseph M. Dunn, pinochle, and Miss Mary Cusick, bridge.

Arrangements for the party were in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Joan Sheehe, chairman, Mrs. Marie Kraft, Mrs. Margaret Deininger, Mrs. Rose McDaniel, Mrs. Sophia Murphy, Mrs. Jean Hogan, Miss Margaret Lawler, Mrs. Kathleen McAndrew and Mrs. Anna Mae Johnston.

LUCY WEBB HAYES MEETING

Devotions at a meeting of the Lucy Webb Hayes circle of Epworth Methodist church Thursday night were in charge of Mrs. Juanita Peebles, and Mrs. Mary Fisher talked on rural church work. Mrs. Clara Messenger was hostess for the meeting in her home at 233 Forest street. The program was in charge of Mrs. Jessie Ellery. Miss Doris Emptage was a guest. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Virna Laucher, Mrs. Maude Robinson and Mrs. Gertrude Garver. A report was given of 72 calls made. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Jessie Lindsey.

Social Affairs

MRS DOROTHY KUEHNER was elected president at a meeting of the executive board of the Marion Federation of the Child Conservation League Monday evening at Ringer's inn. Mrs Kay Denman was elected vice president, Mrs Opal Wright, recording secretary, Mrs. Ellen Meister, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Frances Hecker, treasurer. The officers will be installed at the next meeting which will be a combined business and social session in the parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal church, May 24. Speaker for the meeting will be Rev. Frederick W. Leech, rector of St. Paul's church. A potluck dinner will precede the meeting. Mrs. Ernest Williams reported on the spring conference held April 9 at Kenton and Mrs Kenneth Tobin reported on a meeting of representatives of the federation with city police regarding protection of the youth of the city. Mrs. John Gillis, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers.

A 1 o'clock potluck luncheon Monday at the country home of Mrs. B. W. Van Meter of the Holland pike closed the 1947-48 club season of the Sesame club. The luncheon was served by the social committee, composed of Mrs. C. H. Lindsay, Mrs. W. H. Brown and Mrs. E. Fogle, assisted by Mrs Van Meter.

Twenty-three members responded to roll call on the subject "Roadside glimpses," and Mrs. Anna Carter of Hamilton, O., was a guest. Mrs. Glenmore Hawkins, Mrs. Edward Robson, Mrs. J R McCann and Miss Leona Taylor were complimented for having perfect attendance records for the year.

Mrs. Carl Campbell and Mrs S R. Vermillion presented a program of verse and music. They sang "Gathering Flowers In May," followed by a piano duet, "Melody in F" by Rubenstein. A musical skit, "Mary and Marie," was given by both Mrs Campbell and Mrs Vermillion. Two poems, "Hello Tulips" and "The Happy Toad," were read by Mrs. Campbell, and Mrs. Vermillion read "Pussy Willows Valentine" and "The Cherry Picker." A piano solo, "Minuet in G" by Mrs. Hawkins, closed the program.

Studies for next year will be "Notable Women, Past and Present," and "Departments of Work of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs." The club will open its new season October 4 with a president's tea at the Federation Home.

To close its current club season, the Marion Sorosis club held a "sandwich" party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Parish on North Prospect street Mrs. Homer Cole served as assistant hostess.

Seventeen members responded to roll call and Mrs. J. Boyd and Mrs Foster VanNoy were guests Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Herman Heisler on the topic, "Mother's Day." During the social hour, an auction sale of baked goods was held, conducted by Mrs. Troy McClure and Mrs. Harry Merchant. The club will resume its activities again in October.

Following an annual custom, members of the Delphian club closed its season Monday afternoon with a "house picnic" at the home of Mrs. Frank Detwiler of 575 South Prospect street. Mrs. Earl Ruhlman was welcomed back into the club as a member, and Mrs C. E. Curtis of Dayton and Mrs. Lulu Merchant of Marion were guests.

Mrs. Louis Uhl gave the thought for meditation. Annual reports of officers and committee chairmen were given, and Mrs Forest Flockencier, a delegate to the recent state convention held in Columbus, reported on the highlights of the convention. Plans were made for the club to participate in Fine Arts Day activities Monday, May 3, at the Federation Home, and programs for the new year were distributed.

In presenting the gavel to Mrs. Flockencier, president-elect, Mrs J. B. Hoagland, retiring president, read an original poem.

The first meeting of the 1948-49 club season will be Oct. 11.

The Research club closed its club season Monday with a "springtime" luncheon at Ringer's Inn. Mrs. C. H. Indoe, vice president, presided for the meeting which she opened by reading a poem, "Today" by Jessie E. Campbell. Twenty-one members responded to roll call on the subject, "Favorite Quotations."

A report of the April Federation meeting was given by Mrs. Indoe, and Mrs. Gladys Arter, incoming president, reported on the state convention held recently in Columbus. Mrs. Indoe presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Arter, and Mrs. Nellie Irey distributed programs for the new year.

For the program, Mrs. Eve Hunter and Mrs. Vera Koons played as piano duet numbers a medley of a group of compositions. Guests were Mrs. J. H. Gimblett of Cleveland Mrs R. B Nungesser of Long Island, N. Y., Mrs Hunter and Mrs Koons

The first meeting of the 1948-49 club season will be October 4 at the Federation Home.

Fine Arts Day Dinner Set For Monday Night

RESERVATIONS for the anniversary banquet to be held Monday night as a part of the annual community fine arts day observance sponsored by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs are to be made not later than Friday, it was announced today. The banquet will be held at Hotel Harding and will follow the fine arts day program in the afternoon at the Federation Home. Reservations are to be made through the club presidents who will report to Mrs. Lewis Uhl, ticket chairman.

No reservations are required for the afternoon program and tea the sponsors announce. The tea will be in charge of the social committee of which Mrs. B. H. Buettin is chairman, and it is hoped that all clubwomen, patronesses and others interested in the fine arts program will attend.

The banquet is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock and will include reminiscences by past presidents of the federation and a musical program. At this time also winners in the literature and scrapbook contests will be announced.

The fine arts day this year will center on the fiftieth anniversary of the federation and displays will follow this theme.

CLARIDON CLUB MEETS

A meeting of the Claridon Tommies 4-H club was held Monday, April 19, at the home of Gladys Kauffeld on the Marion-Cardington road. Bible verses will be given in response to roll call. A social hour followed and refreshments were served Lloyd Lutz, assistant county agent, was a guest The next meeting will be May 3 with Jo Earl of the Patton road.

Weddings

Epworth Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Evelyn Showers and Robert Eisele Sunday afternoon. The couple repeated their vows before an altar decorated with a floor basket filled with white snapdragons and lighted with tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra.

Preceding the double ring ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, Dr V. E Buster, Mrs C H. Indoe played a program of organ music including "An Old Garden," Terhune, "Andantino," Lemare, "Romance," Zitterbart "Indian Love Call," Friml, and "Oh, Promise Me," DeKoven The traditional wedding marches were used and during the ceremony "O Perfect Love," Barnby, was played.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis A Showers and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Eisele of West of Marion, and the late Mr Eisele.

Given in marriage by her brother, Paul Showers, the bride was costumed in a sage green dress-maker suit with a half hat of white flowers and shoulder veil Her accessories were in black and white and she wore a shoulder bouquet of purple-throated orchids.

Miss Dorothy Seiter, bridesmaid, was attired in a gray suit of butcher linen and her off-the-face hat was of black, white and gray straw with which she combined black and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds.

Homer Seckel, a cousin of the bride, was the best man and ushers were Eugene Showers, brother of the bride and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Thomas Kerr.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of wine colored crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs Paul Showers and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Showers entertained with a reception at the home of the former east of Marion, for 35 guests. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table decorated in pink and white, the bride's colors. Assisting were Mrs. C E Grant and Mrs Harry Weston.

Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will make their home on a farm west of Marion.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Margaret Cornwell and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Francis of Columbus; Mrs. Myrtle Highley and Herbert Highley of Caledonia; Mr and Mrs. H. Thomas Kerr and family of Richwood; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Elsass and son of Waynesburg; Mr and Mrs N. J. Schneiker and family and Frank Eisele of Galion

A nuptial mass in St Lawrence Catholic church in Price Hill, Cincinnati, Saturday morning solemnized the marriage of Miss Frances Davis and Joseph P. Keegan, both of Cincinnati. Monsignor Marcellus Wagner, pastor, officiated for the ceremony and was the celebrant for the mass at 9 o'clock.

The bride's sister Miss Margaret Davis, and Mark A Dalton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Cincinnati, were the attendants

For her wedding Miss Davis chose a two-piece costume of pink crepe with which she wore a matching straw hat and her flowers were orchids. Her attendant wore a blue costume with a matching hat and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast for the immediate families at the Alpine Inn and later the couple left on a motor trip that will take them to Michigan for two weeks. They will make their home in Cincinnati.

The bride is employed in secretarial work with the New York Life Insurance Co. in Cincinnati, and Mr. Keegan is with the U. S. Civil Service with headquarters in Louisville, Ky. The son of Mr and Mrs. Thomas J. Keegan of 212 Short street, Mr. Keegan was graduated from St. Mary Parochial High school and was a first lieutenant with the Army Engineers in World War II serving 30 months in the African sector.

Mrs. Margaret Baker of 126 West Fleming street, aunt of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

BLUE CROSS DRIVE DATES SET HERE

Annual Enrollment To Be Held May 10 to 14.

Announcement was made today by Ralph W. Jordan, executive vice president of Central Hospital Service, the Blue Cross Plan for central Ohio, that the second annual Marion County Blue Cross community enrollment will be held May 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, with headquarters in the Marion Water Co.

The enrollment campaign is being co-sponsored by the following, as announced by Mr. Jordan: the Marion Citizens' Committee, the City Hospital and the Medical Staff of the City Hospital. The Citizens' Committee is composed of John Dugan, Carl H. Lehner, J. E. Oliphant, W. B. Ward, Elmer Shaw, John W. Dowler, Otis Porter and E. H. Parr. Heading the hospital sponsorship are J. A. Mautz, hospital administrator, and Irene Tinklepaugh, superintendent of nurses. Heading the Medical Staff of the hospital is Dr. Floyd Yeager.

The purpose of the campaign is to provide the opportunity for self-employed persons, and those gainfully employed who work where there are less than five in a group, to obtain Blue Cross membership. Jordan pointed out further that where there are more than five in a given employee-employer group, then they may form a Blue Cross group on a payroll deduction basis. Where there are more than five employed, it takes at least five to start the group. This will be the only Marion Blue Cross campaign in 1948 it was also stated at this time.

SHOVEL CO. HISTORY TRACED BY GRACELY

President of Company Speaks Before Rotary.

Progress of events in the excavating industry since the first steam shovel was invented 113 years ago to the present time, when Marion Power Shovel Co., leader in the excavating field, builds huge machines which operate dippers of 40-cubic-yards capacity, was traced in an interesting manner by Harvey T. Gracely, president and general manager of the Marion plant, when he spoke, Tuesday noon, to the members of the Marion Rotary club at their weekly luncheon-meeting in Harding Hotel ballroom.

Otis Built First Shovel

Mr. Gracely discussed the "Early History of Marion Power Shovel Co." He referred to the building of the first type of steam shovel in Boston in 1835 by William Smith Otis, and seven additional shovels in the next two years in Philadelphia by Mr. Otis and Harrison and Eastwick, manufacturers. Four of these early shovels were purchased by Russia, two by England and one was placed in operation by the present Boston and Albany railroad, near Worcester, Mass.

Barnhart's New Invention

The next step forward in the excavating industry came with the invention by Henry Barnhart of an improvement in the then existing shovel design and the manufacture of the first Barnhart shovel by Mr. Barnhart, with Edward Huber, in the Huber plant on North State street, where the Houghton Sulky Co. is now located.

He said that the Marion Power Shovel Co. designed and placed on the market in 1911 the first large revolving shovel, which carried a 3½ cubic yard dipper. These shovels, used generally in large and small coal-stripping operations, have increased in size under a gradually increasing demand for the product from their original small beginning to the first great machine which was shipped from the Marion plant eighteen months ago, operating a dipper of 40 cubic yards capacity. He said that the original shovel cost about $20,000 at the Marion plant and the latest type giant size machine cost nearly $900,000.

Favorable Outlook

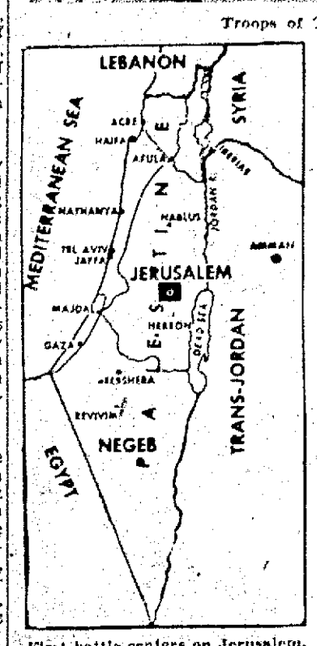
Mr. Gracely closed his discussion of the early history of the company he heads by the declaration that, in his opinion, "the future of our company seems more assured than at any previous time in its history," provided business and economic conditions do not become unsettled by the unsound and difficult situations with which business must cope during these times.

The nominations of Charles Shearer, James Harmon and Fred Cory for the board of directors were made, closing the nominations.

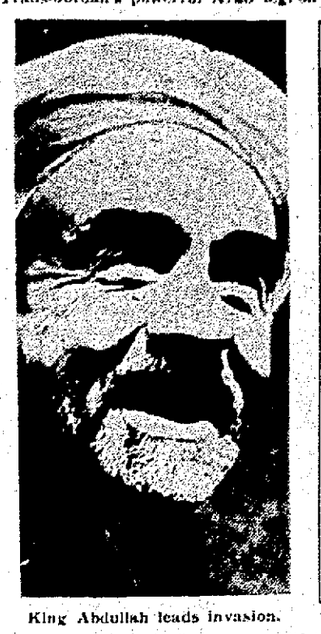
Guests were William Pohler, L. E. Wynocker of Waterville, Howart Arndt of Wellington, Theodore P. Frericks, J. E. Scandling, Ben Hammond and R. C. Heaslett of Coraopolis, Pa.

Lola Barnett, co-editor of the Harding Herald, was the student reporter from the journalism class.

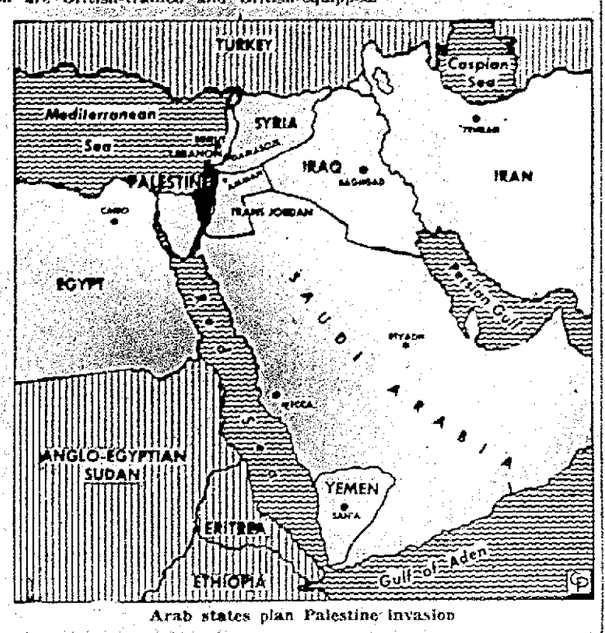
Troops of Trans-Jordan's powerful Arab legion are British-trained and British-equipped.



First battle centers on Jerusalem.



King Abdullah leads invasion.



Arab states plan Palestine invasion

REPORT SIX ARAB ARMIES READY TO INVADE PALESTINE. Major Arab-Jewish battle for Palestine is under way in the Holy Land with armies from six Arab nations reported ready to invade Palestine. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan is in personal command of his crack, British-trained 15,000-man Arab legion, and regular armies of Syria, Lebanon and Egypt are reported joining with the legion in an attempt to conquer the Jews before they can establish their own state in the Holy Land. Iraq and Saudi Arabia also reportedly have concurred.

"No War," Declares Soviet Berlin Press

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 28—"There will be no war," the Soviet-controlled press in Berlin said today.

"There will be a political reckoning with those who chose Berlin as a fighting place for their political adventures," it added.

Taegliche Rundschau, Soviet military government newspaper, devoted nearly half its front page to a new attack against the west. It charged wholesale arrests of political minorities and widespread attacks by American soldiers against Berlin Germans.

LAUSCHE CHIDES HERBERT ON TAXES

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 28—Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who is waging a brisk fight within the Democratic party, turned his pre-primary guns on Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert last night.

He chided the governor for failure to reduce the state sales tax rate of three per cent. This rate, Lausche said, would bring in about $260,000,000 for 1947 and 1948.

"This is $170,000,000 more than my administration collected from sales tax," said Lausche. "In spite of that, promises to the taxpayers that the sales tax would be reduced from three to two per cent have been forgotten, disregarded government under Herbert had and not kept."

Lausche said the cost of state increased about 40 per cent.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28—Paul F. Ward of Steubenville, Democratic aspirant for attorney general, said today he's far from satisfied with Welfare Director Sharles Sherwood's statement that administration of Ohio penitentiary is divorced from politics.

"Vague," said Ward of Sherwood's assurance.

Three slayings occurred at the prison in five days last week and Ward recalled Sherwood never announced his reasons for demanding Warden Frank Henderson's recent resignation.

Seniors at Claridon To Present Play Friday

The senior class play of Claridon High school, "Cheerio, My Dearie," has been set for Friday night in the school auditorium, with opening time announced as 8:15. A cast of 12 will present the three-act comedy, with setting in a North Carolina summer resort. Mrs. Frances Strine is the director. Taking part will be Dale Trey, Gloria Lashey, Florence Wright, Lois Kimball, Art Creasap, Janet Force, Ruth Hull, Edward Kimball, Dorothy Withers, Janice Force, Bob Pickett, and Dick Winters.

Grade Teachers' Pay As in High Schools

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 28—Almost all Ohio grade school teachers now are paid as much as high school teachers with comparable training, the Ohio Education association reported today.

T. G. O'Keefe, research director, said a survey showed that 32 per cent of the board of education had adopted a "single salary" schedule, with pay based solely on rating and experience.

The annual U. S. death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 100 to 35 per 100,000 in the past 20 years.

MILLS SETS MEETING OF COUNTY TEACHERS

First of Discussion Series To Be Held Next Wednesday.

County school supervisors and teachers of grades one, two and three were invited today by County Superintendent D. T. Mills to attend an important meeting at his residence, 136 Hill street, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, May 5.

This will be the first of a series of discussion meetings which will take the place of the teacher-supervisor fall workshop program which has been in effect here the last two years.

The object of the discussion meeting will be to pass on to supervisors and teachers the latest methods in dealing with current problems faced in school work.

For the last four weeks Superintendent Mills has been in attendance at the Saturday invitational seminar for school executives at Ohio State university. Mr. Mills is one of some 20 school executives throughout the state who have been invited to attend this seminar and discuss school problems and techniques of both general and specific natures with the Seminar Director Dr. Laura Zerbes, who was recently voted by a national poll as the woman who had contributed the most to elementary education in the nation during 1947.

At last Saturday's session of the seminar Mr. Mills was accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Pilkington of Pleasant school staff and Mrs. Genevieve Everett of the LaRue school staff. They will join Mr. Mills at the forthcoming meeting to assist him in presenting new and improved instructional techniques.

Scout Commissioners Will Meet Tonight

A dinner meeting of Boy Scout commissioners from Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot counties will be held tonight at 6:30 at Greenwood Inn. Speaker for the meeting will be Joseph M. Thomas of New York City, assistant national director of volunteer training of the Boy Scouts of America.

Plans for the meeting were made at a meeting of a group of Scout executives Tuesday night at Greenwood Inn. Present at this meeting were Mr. Thomas, Cecil Gabler, chairman of council leadership training, J. E. Frew, Marion district chairman, Dr. Robert T. Gray, Harding Area Council president, Karl Bechtle, council commissioner, Hugh Hay, Scout executive, Owen Meddles, field Scout executive, and W. H. Diehl, leadership training chairman for Crawford county.

Ohio Food Jobbers Elect Mansfield Man

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 28—R. C. Walter of Mansfield, O., was elected president of the Associated Wholesale Food Distributors of Ohio yesterday. The organization was holding its forty-second annual convention.

Walter succeeds R. R. McGowan of Steubenville. E. B. Smith of Lima was elected vice president to succeed Walter, and Robert Ewing of Columbus to succeed Smith on the executive committee.

Other officers: F. V. Powers, Grove City, secretary-treasurer; L. J. Manful of Canton, chairman of the executive committee. Other committee member is Ben Tamarkin of Youngstown.

Gael Sullivan Resigns Democratic Party-Post

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28—Gael Sullivan resigned today as executive director of the Democratic national committee.

He said he will become associated with the Theater Owners of America.

Friends said they understand Sullivan will receive about $50,000 a year in his new job.

His resignation is effective May 10.

The 43-year-old Chicagoan joined the Democratic committee in February 1947 after resigning as second assistant postmaster general.

MORE Washer for LESS money
CONVENTIONAL SINGLE WALL
Most washers have a single wall, flat bottom tub mounted on a "pedestal" base with bolts running through tub to support wringer.
SPEED QUEEN DOUBLE WALL
The Speed Queen has a bowl shaped tub protected by double walls and supported by legs running the full length of washer. No tub bolts.

You would think that the Speed Queen, with its bowl tub and double-wall construction, would be higher priced than single-wall machines. But the strange fact is that the double-wall Speed Queen actually costs less than most conventional single-wall washers. Stop in and let us show you how and why the Speed Queen is the biggest washing machine value on the market today.

DRESS REHEARSAL HELD BY PLAY CAST

Harding Seniors To Present "The Barretts."

A final dress rehearsal for the Harding High school senior class play, "The Barretts," was held Tuesday in the Harding school gymnasium. The play, a romantic comedy in three acts, will be presented Thursday at the Palace theater in both afternoon and evening performances. It is being directed by Marion O. Chase, speech instructor at Harding.

The matinee program, for students only, is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m., and the evening performance, for which reserved seats must be obtained, will start at 8:15 p. m.

Tickets were reserved by the students Monday in the East hall at Harding, and reservations can still be made with J. H. Smith at Harding High school. Tickets for the performances will also be available at the door of the theater on Thursday.

Rehearsals have been held by the cast each evening for the last week and on Saturday morning at the theater.

To promote the play at the school, the art classes, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Bastian, originated a miniature display of the quaint street, Wimpole street, along which the Barrett family lived. This setting is on display above the trophy case at the school.

In the scene, the street is lined with old English type houses, in front of which are colorful trees and bushes. Typical English women and typical English gentlemen stroll along the street, and towards evening, the street lamps seem to light up and show the street signs, "Wimpole Street." Below the display are portraits of Mr. Barrett, Elizabeth and Robert Browning which were painted by two members of the art class.

Moose Lodge Plans Entertainment Tonight

A fish fry and amateur entertainment is scheduled for tonight by the Marion Moose lodge for members and families starting at 8 p. m. at the lodge hall.

Plans for the lodge event were completed at meeting Monday night when five applications for membership were approved. Reports were made on the district meeting held Sunday in Carey and attended by more than 20 members of the local lodge. It was reported a class of 31 candidates was initiated by the Norwalk lodge degree team.

Installation of officers will mark the next meeting, it was announced.

Talk on Radio Given By Mason in Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 28—Robert Mason of Marion, a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman, was a guest speaker at the final April meeting of the Upper Sandusky Rotary club.

Mr. Mason, the owner of radio station WMRN, opened his talk with a discussion of radio guided missiles and explained how radio waves may be used to cook steaks, bake cake or print newspapers.

He also outlined a possible future use of radar waves in automobiles to detect approaching vehicles around a blind curve. Mr. Mason concluded with a reminder that all citizens should help to maintain freedom of religion, speech, assembly and the press.

MUSIC WEEK IN GALION

GALION, April 28—With the spring concert by the Galion High school band announced for Thursday night at Senior High auditorium, a series will be presented in observance of National Music Week. The Galion schools will be host on Friday night for the Northern Ohio league orchestra festival, bringing school orchestras here from Crestline, Bellevue, Norwalk, Upper Sandusky, Willard and Galion. The program will be given at the Junior High auditorium.

MORRAL MUSIC FESTIVAL

The annual Morral High school music festival will be presented Friday at 8 p. m. in the Morral school gymnasium. "Young America Relaxes" is the theme being carried out in the festival and pupils of grades one through 12 will participate. Both vocal and instrumental music will be given with numbers by the band, orchestra, and the various vocal groups. The festival is under the direction of Mrs. Carl Bailey, school music instructor. She is being assisted by Mrs. Jack Bosley, first and second grade teacher, Mrs. Harvey Rutter, third and fourth grade teacher, and Miss Helen Float, fifth and sixth grade teacher.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

(This is the second of two stories on the fight over margarine.)

• • •

WASHINGTON

THIS is an ABC on the fight in congress over margarine and butter.

The average price of those two bread spreads is: margarine, 42 cents a pound; butter, 94 cents a pound.

The higher butter prices go or stay, the more customers there are for the cheaper-priced margarine. Still, far more butter is sold.

Last year the sale was: margarine, 745,000,000 pounds; butter, 1,700,000,000. Those figures are from the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers.

James Marlow

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows. This is the make-up of margarine: 15 per cent skimmed milk; 5 per cent salt and seasoning; 80 per cent vegetable fats—oil from soybeans, cottonseeds, peanuts.

Margarine is sold on the market in two forms: already colored yellow like butter; or plain white, with coloring attached for the housewife to mix to get the butter-yellow color.

About 90 per cent of all margarine eaten is the kind bought uncolored. The government tax on that is less than on the kind already colored yellow.

If you'd been raised from babyhood on white-colored butter, you'd probably grow up liking it that way.

But you've been raised on yellow butter. So your preference is for it. You want a yellow spread on your bread.

And that color—yellow—is one of the main points in the fight between butter-makers and margarine-makers.

The butter-makers don't want to see yellow margarine sold on the market, if they can help it. They argue:

UNLESS YELLOW-COLORED margarine is labeled margarine, you, the housewife, can be fooled into thinking you're getting butter.

The other side of that argument is:

If you began buying yellow-colored margarine and found not much difference between it and butter, you'd probably buy one as readily as the other.

And—the more margarine was sold, the more the butter-makers would suffer in the long run.

So it's been to the interest of the butter-makers—the manufacturers and the dairy farmers with the cream-giving cows— to see that margarine is sold under handicaps.

AND FOR YEARS ITS been sold under big handicaps that didn't apply to its competitor, butter.

And for years the margarine-makers—the manufacturers and the growers of those vegetables that go into margarine, like soybeans, cotton, peanuts—have been trying to get the handicaps removed.

So it's been one group of manufacturers and farmers against another. Until now the butter boys have been winning. Here are some of the handicaps on margarine:

Margarine manufacturers must pay a yearly federal license fee (tax) of $600, whether the margarine is colored or uncolored. Wholesalers must pay a yearly federal fee of $480 if they handle colored margarine, $200 if it's uncolored.

Retailers—neighborhood grocers—must pay a yearly federal fee of $48 to sell colored margarine, $6 to sell the uncolored kind.

Then there's a federal tax of one-quarter of a cent a pound on uncolored margarine and 10 cents on the colored kind.

THESE TAXES ARE more of a nuisance to the margarine people than they are a revenue-producer for the government. The government income from those federal fees and taxes was about $7,000,000 last year.

Since about 745,000,000 pounds of margarine were sold last year, the government's income was less than one cent a pound.

The U. S. treasury is on record as not caring whether all the margarine taxes are wiped out.

The taxes first were put on to prevent the fraudulent sale of margarine.

The wiping out of all federal fees and taxes would still leave margarine under big handicaps in many states which have their own fees and taxes. About 22 states won't let colored margarine be sold at all.

The house was expected today to wipe out all or some of the federal fees and taxes. This won't mean anything unless the senate does the same thing.

"If everyone saves a little ... there should be enough for all"

"You saw what happened when everybody pitched in to stretch the supply of fuel oil. Folks saved. They were neighborly. And... there was enough to go 'round.

"Well, that's all it's going to take to make sure there'll be enough gasoline to go 'round.

"Actually, the oil companies are producing more gasoline and other petroleum products, today, than during the peak war years—a lot more than in 1941. But there are also a lot more cars, trucks and busses on the road, today. There are 3 commercial planes in the air for every 2, in 1941; 6 Diesel locomotives on the rails for every 1 in '41. The use of oil burners for heating is up 40%. Industry is using over 18% more petroleum. Midwest farmers are using almost twice as much as they did in '41. And their needs must certainly be met.

"Yes, you can see that while the supply is great—the demand is greater. To meet this tremendous demand, the petroleum industry is going all out—spending 4 billion dollars on expansion.

"At Ohio Oil, for instance, we're really pushing ahead with our expansion program. We're drilling many new wells, expanding transportation and distribution facilities. And right here, you can see we're making real progress on our refinery expansion program.

"Programs like this can't be completed overnight. They take time—and steel. But with other companies bearing down just like mine ... well, if everyone saves a little, there should be enough for all."

... snapped quickly into her ... when she was sure her ... was out of sight.

"... are sooch a noosance ... planning tings," she said ... Dey always get off on ... foot. Now, ve vimmens kin talk nice und cozy. But I vant get vun ting straight first. Do you mean ven folks get here, me und Mrs. Ticer no see you? Ve shoost have to take orders from qveen, und do eferyting she says."

"Of course, you'll see me," I said a bit crossly. "I shall be planning the meals for the house party, and looking after things in general. But—and you must remember this—every bit of the wedding preparations will be in Queen Olga's hands, the decorations, the table settings, the food, the wedding cake, the favors, everything. It will be exactly like a big wedding, I imagine, only on a smaller scale. And every bit of the preparations will have to be made here. We can't risk having anything prepared outside and sent in."

"You mean," gasped Katie, patently divided between ecstacy and trepidation, "dot I haf to make vedding cake?"

"I do not know, Katie," I said, "but you may be sure of one thing, if you do, Queen Olga will be at your elbow every second, telling you just what to do."

"Dot's shoost vot I 'fraid of," Katie retorted. "You nefer, nefer stand ofer me. You say: 'Katie do dees, und den you go avay, und ven I bring eet to you, you say, 'Katie dees is nice,' or you say 'Vot did do mit dees?' und I know shoost ver I stand."

But I was beyond all discipline. I leaned back in my chair and laughed heartily. I heard Mrs. Ticer's chuckles, and finally, Katie's gleeful giggles as she realized that she was restored to favor.

"I know what you mean, Katie," I told her, wiping my eyes. "But you must make up your mind to having Queen Olga looking at your every moment."

"Okay!" Katie said resignedly. "Shoost vatch me! I no care eef dot qveen dance ofer me like dozen hooming birds. Now, tell me vot ve must do before you get her."

"You must prepare rooms for these people. Our family, my father, Mr. Graham and myself, Faith and Mrs. Bickett.

"Oh, my baby, my leetle Faith!" Katie apostrophized.

"She'll be very glad to see you," I said smiling. "Now, Faith and Mrs. Bickett and I will occupy Madam Graham's two rooms, for she is in the hospital, you know and cannot come out. That will leave my room for a guest."

"Dot poor old vomans!" Katie exclaimed.

"Yes, but there's no help for it," I told her, dismissing that subject abruptly. Then there will be these guests: Mr. Philip Veritzen and his wife, Queen Olga, the princess Olina, Miss Mary and Mr. Noel, and perhaps—I am not sure of this—Mr. and Mrs. Underwood."

"Dot not so awful many," Katie said. "Ve haf more dan dot oder times."

"Yes, I know," I told her. Now, there are two things I want you to look after especially. First get in the usual provisions you will need for that many people for a week—they will not be here longer than that. I will send you a registererd letter, so there will be no chance of its being opened, telling you the special things I wish you to order, and we, of course, will bring some things with us.

"Second, King Georges and his wife will occupy my father's wing for their honeymoon. You will serve their meals in there. And I wish you to prepare that suite for their occupany, take down the curtains, take out the rugs, clean them thoruoghly—you know what to do."

Katie's arms went suddenly akimbo.

"Und vill you tell me," she demanded "vere dot keeng und dot beeg detecatuff Mister 'K.' goin' be vile me und Misses Ticer, clean dose rooms?"

DATE FOR COUNTY PICNIC IS CHANGED

City and County Event To Be Held July 28.

Two important decisions were reached Monday by the planners of the big "all Marion-all county farmers' and merchants' picnic.

Accecding to the wishes of farm groups the date of the picnic was changed from July 14 to July 28, after farm spokesmen stated that in a normal year by that date combine work on local farms should be completed.

Crystal Lake park was selected as the site of the picnic by the location committee. The assurance of adequate traffic direction was assured by the pledges of cooperation given the picnic planners by Sheriff Retterer and Chief Marks of city police.

Plans for the picnic are being formed by a joint committee, composed of committees of the retail promotion, retail practices and policies committees, and retail board of managers of the Chamber of Commerce.

All of the 30 farm and merchant representatives present reported a growing interest and enthusiasm about the picnic is being felt throughout the county, the committeemen have been approached by both rural and city business firms with offers of assistance and expressions of a desire to participate.

Special guests at the combined meeting Monday noon in Hotel Harding were Police Chief William E. Marks, Deputy Sheriff George Conroy, YMCA Physical Director Bob Minard, and Fred Scheff. The meeting was directed by Charles Jennings, chairman of the retail board of managers.

WED IN CRESTLINE

CRESTLINE, April 28—In a pretty wedding in the Evangelical and Reformed church Sunday, Miss Jean Elizabeth Snyder became the bride of Walter Corbin Knoblaugh III. Rev. W. L. Margard performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. Mrs. Howard Wildman of Shelby presided at the organ and Paul A. Furry of Crestline was soloist.

Miss Eleanor Wentz of Shelby, former roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Dr. Spring Jacob of East Lansing, Mich., served as best man, and Lawrence Webb of Logan, O., former roommate of the groom, and Kenneth Snyder of Bucyrus, cousin of the bride, were ushers. A reception was held in the church basement after the ceremony.

Following a trip through southern states, the couple will reside in Tiffin.

The bride was graduated from Crestline High school in 1938 and Tiffin university in 1941. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wheeling High school and of OSU. He is a ceramic engineer at the Basic Refractories, Inc., Maple Grove.

LET BRIDGE CONTRACT

The contract for the painting and cleaning of six state highway bridges in Marion county, two in Union county, and two in Morrow county, was let today to contractor Rome Daugherty, of Brownsville. His successful low bid was $8,100 while the engineers estimate was $10,665, according to an Associated Press report today.

LEGION POST MEETS WITH AUXILIARY

Bird-McGinnis Men and Women Hear Music, Talk.

A joint meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, and the Auxiliary to the post was held Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout.

The program was in charge of Mrs. John Marquis of the auxiliary. A boys octette from Vernon Junior High school, composed of Dick Eller, Tom Indoe, Jim Creager, Dan Andrews, John Goff, Lowell Jones, Paul Ludwig and Dick Gracey, sang two numbers, "The Whiffenpoof Song" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Two selections, "Sophien March" and "Rustic Beauty," were played by a brass quartet from Harding High school. It is composed of Dick Umbaugh and Greg Graham, trumpets, Dave Cheney, baritone and Tom Ballinger, trombone.

A highlight of the program was a talk by Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo. He also showed a picture entitled, "A Boy in Court," which showed how corrective measures are used instead of punishment. Judge Ruzzo's topic was "Marion County Juvenile Court Statistics and What They Mean to the Community."

Mrs. Don DeLong, auxiliary president, presided for the meeting of the auxiliary, and John Moore, post commander, was in charge of the post meeting.

In the auxiliary meeting, Mrs. W. E. Orcutt conducted devotions. A report was made that 42 pairs of slippers have been completed for veterans in hospitals, and an announcement was made that proceeds totaling $17.50 was made from a recent card party. Final plans were made for the Gold Star Mothers special meeting to be held Monday evening, May 10, in the Dugout. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Arthur Palmer, past sixth district president.

John V. Ruth, first vice commander, announced that the current membership drive will end May 1. C. M. Rogers and W. E. Orcutt reported on plans for the Junior Baseball program this season to be sponsored by the Legion.

Refreshments were served following the meeting in the social rooms at tables decorated with bouquets of spring flowers.

GAS CO. TO CUT BACK FACTORY SUPPLIES

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 28—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has announced that it intends to curtail natural gas supplies to industries this year in order to take on 15,000 new space-heating customers.

Under questioning in a federal power commission hearing Tuesday, W. H. Shinholser of Ohio Fuel admitted his company has "no additional sources or supplies of natural gas" for the new customers.

Robert R. Bation counsel for three Indiana gas companies, asked Shinholster where he expected "to get 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day next winter" for peak-day demands of the new customers.

Shinhoster replied that it "will have to be reflected in industrial curtailment" on peak demand days.

Ohio Fuel and Bation's clients, the Central Indiana Gas Co., Richmond Gas Corp. and Kokomo Gas & Fuel Co., are customers of the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

The commission is holding hearings on Panhandle's ability to supply its customers.

NAVY CLUB MEETS

Plans were discussed for annual Memorial day services to be held by the Marion Navy club Sunday, May 23, at a meeting of the club Monday night in the clubrooms. The services will be at 3 p. m. in the Forest Glen Memorial park. Guest speaker will be John Zimmerman of Springfield, past national commandant of the Navy club.

War Veterans Form GOP Club in Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 28—A movement to establish a chapter of the War Veterans Republican club of Ohio was launched here Monday night when a small group of invited veterans set up a temporary staff of officers at a dinner meeting at the Elks club.

Ralph Wolf of Columbus, executive secretary to Earl L. Reeb, state director of highways and a veteran of both world wars, addressed the group, devoting the greater part of his talk to a condemnation of the Communistic movement in this country.

Assistant Secretary of State Leland S. Dugan was also a speaker outlining the objective of the veterans' organization.

Rollen Koons was named temporary chairman of the local club and Rep. Terry Drake of Galion was chosen as temporary secretary. J. Dudley Sears was given the temporary post as treasurer.

SHOW PICTURE AT CITADEL

An audience of approximately 100 persons witnessed the showing of the sound and color film, "The God of Creation," Tuesday night at the Salvation Army hall. Presented in natural colors the audience, through the pictures of flowers and vegetables, were shown the beauties of natural science and also were taken on a photographic trip to the stars.

Narrator on the sound film was sented under the direction o Dr. Frank A. Monk, and the re- A. D. Telder Moody film r ing color scientific film was pre- sentative.

Driver Fined $100, License Suspended

Melvin V. West, 54, of 955 Uncapher avenue was fined $100 and costs in municipal court yesterday and his driving privileges were suspended for three years on a charge by police that he was driving while intoxicated on Davids street April 16. Police report this is his second offense on the same charge.

Earl Lafayette Jones, 37, of 557 Lee street pleaded not guilty yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated filed by police in municipal court. The charge arose from a collision between a car driven by Jones and one driven by Franklin O. Russell, 22, of 428 Thompson street which occurred at 8 p. m. Monday at the intersection of Thompson and Silver streets in which both cars were damaged.

At 9:05 p. m. Monday a car driven by Charles B. Parmer, 63, of 492 Lee street collided with a parked car belonging to Charles H. Smith which was parked in front of his home at 424 Lee street. The Smith car was slightly damaged, police said.

A city bus driven by Gerald E. Wynn, 28, of 879 Davids street collided with a truck parked in a bus zone on East Center street by Henry N. Todwick, 20, of Columbus. The accident was reported by police at 9:02 a. m. Tuesday. Damage was negligible police reported.

Differences in Labor Policy Basic Trouble at Oak Ridge

(SECOND OF A SERIES)

By MAX HALL

Associated Press Labor Reporter

WASHINGTON, April 28—Labor-management troubles in the immense atomic plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., have reached the point where President Truman has declared a national emergency.

Here are the main causes of those troubles to date:

1. Differences in the labor policies of the various companies that come and go as operators of the Oak Ridge plants.

2. Rivalry between AFL and CIO groups, each constantly fearing the other will get a better deal.

The atomic energy commission is urgently negotiating with AFL, CIO and management leaders, trying to win agreement on an overall atomic labor policy that would insure against work stoppages.

The wartime ban on recognition of unions at Oak Ridge was lifted by the Army two years ago. Instantly the CIO and AFL scrambled into a rough-and-tumble race for members. Plant elections were held. The results:

1. The CIO won at uranium plant K-25, the "gaseous diffusion" plant operated by Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Corporation.

2. The AFL won at plant X-10, the Oak Ridge national laboratory, the operated by Monsanto Chemical Company.

3. "No union" won at uranium plant Y-12, the "electromagnetic separation" plant then operated by Tennessee Eastman.

All three plants now are operated by Carbide & Carbon.

An AFL strike was averted March 19 by an 80-day court order under the national emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley act. The law says this injunction shall be lifted not later than June 7.

But the first Oak Ridge labor crisis occurred last December. It involved the CIO chemical workers.

Changes Asked

A year earlier, in December 1946, this union reached an agreement with Carbide & Carbon, but in January 1947 the union asked for changes in wages, holiday pay, sick leave and other provisions.

The demand was based on the belief that the AFL at A-10 had gotten a superior contract from Monsanto.

The CIO union and the Carbide Corporation met more than 60 times in 1947 without getting anywhere. On Dec. 4 the union gave its committee the authority to call a strike. The contract was to expire Dec. 9.

Federal mediation director Cyrus S. Ching conferred with CIO officials here, and the negotiations were extended. A new agreement was reached Dec. 11. Relations have improved since then.

Meantime the AFL crisis was building up at the X-10 laboratory.

This institution was first operated by DuPont. DuPont was followed by the University of Chicago and then Monsanto, and those contractors kept the same employment policies that had been set by DuPont.

The University of Chicago was preparing to take over again on Jan. 1, but in December the plans were changed and the contract was awarded to Carbide & Carbon effective March 1.

Contract Expires

The Atomic Trades & Labor Council (AFL) had a contract with Monsanto that expired Dec. 16. Bargaining for a new contract was thrown into confusion by the change in management and other factors.

Carbide began negotiating with the council on Feb. 4. But they couldn't agree. A strike was set for midnight March 19.

On March 5, Mr. Truman invoked the Taft-Hartley emergency provision for the first time. He appointed a board of inquiry which found six main issues in the dispute but said all six were "manifestations of one central difference in objective."

The union wants to preserve the same advantage in wages that plant X-10 had held over plant K-25 since the DuPont days. The company is trying to bring about uniform wage rates in all three Oak Ridge plants.

Both the union and the company want uniform welfare benefits in all plants but they can't agree on the basis for the uniform plan.

The union's last wage proposal was for a blanket raise of 15 cents an hour. The company offered an average raise of 10 cents, with the raises ranging from 1½ to 17½ cents.

Negotiations have been marking time in the hope that the atomic energy commission will complete an overall policy that may provide a basis for settlement.

At atomic centers other than Oak Ridge, the ban on union recognition is still in effect.

But unions have been busy at these other places. For example, at Hanford, Wash., the Pasco-Kennewick Metal Trades Council (AFL) has substantial membership and is actively seeking recognition and a contract.

Changes in management have caused personnel problems at Hanford as well as Oak Ridge.

Until recently, the plutonium plant there was operated by DuPont. Now General Electric has taken it over and brought in its own employment policies, which differ from DuPont's.

Checks to Government Subdivisions Mailed

County Auditor Harry V. Mounts announced that warrants totaling $709,110.25 are being mailed today to the various government subdivisions including the city, villages, townships, schools and county departments.

Funds which validate these warrants represent the first one-half of the real estate tax collection for 1947. Preparation of the warrants was completed Monday after settlement of the accounts with the county treasurer had been approved by the auditor of state.

While County Auditor Mounts is paying out money today Marion City Auditor Elmer Shaw announced the receipt from the office of the auditor of state some $10,704 which is Marion's share of the $1,656,402 in gasoline excise tax funds being distributed by the state auditor. Kenton's share was $2,865.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Mrs. Mary E. Steele

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Steele, 75, died in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Sadie Estes, at 210 Reed avenue at 7:25 a. m. today. She had been ill two years and came to Marion last year from Ironton.

Born May 21, 1872, in Ironton, she was a daughter of William and Nancy Fields Hackworth. In 1895, she married Albert Steele in Ironton. He died Aug. 5, 1947. Mrs. Steele was a member of the Baptist church at Kitts Hill, Lawrence county.

There Is A Reason For This Choice . . .

During the eleven years that the Hughes Funeral Home has been in operation, a steadily increasing number of families has turned to this organization for service. There is a reason.

In all of those years every family we have served has sensed the kindly interest and sincere desire to aid them. That was perhaps to be expected when we first started in a business of our own. But it is equally as true today—and will continue to be so.

Some tangible evidences of that desire to serve better are to be found in an air conditioned Funeral Home, the Everett organ and the fine equipment used throughout our service. And one other interesting item—such service costs no more than any other.

FARMERS WORK AT NIGHT

BUCYRUS, April 28—Remembering last spring's rains which kept fields unfit for plowing until too late to get in many of the county's chief crops, Crawford county farmers "burned the midnight fuel" Monday night, working far into the night with headlights gleaming from their tractors, to prepare the soil for corn planting. Approximately 50,000 of the county's 113,000 farm acreage is expected to be planted in corn. Much of the county's estimated 24,000 acres of oats has already been planted.

Funeral in Indiana For Teacher at OWU

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, April 28—Funeral services for Mrs. Savilla Mangun, assistant professor of home economics at Ohio Wesleyan university, were held yesterday in Wakarusa, Ind.

Mrs. Mangun, who died Saturday in Indiana, taught at Wesleyan from 1936 until March of this year. She was in charge of the recent remodeling of Sturgess hall, home of the home economics department, which I said to be one of the most modern for its size in the country.

Born in Wakarusa, she was graduated from Goshen college and received M.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin. She had instructed at the University of Illinois, was assistant dietitian at Kansas City General hospital and was laboratory technician in a Kansas City clinic before coming to Wesleyan.

INSIDE MORNING GLORIES

Several weeks in advance of the usual out-of-door blooming date of morning glories, an indoor crop from a potted plant of the "heavenly blue" flower is reported blooming at the home of Mrs. Henry Ebert of 312 Davids street. The flowers are climbing on a wire frame in a sunny kitchen window there. Seeds from a last year's out-of-doors morning glory of the blue color were planted by Mrs. Ebert about eight weeks ago. The plant grew fence at the Ebert home last

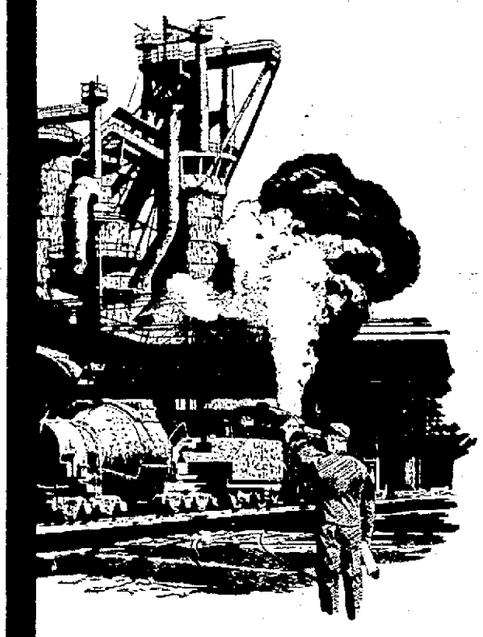
It Takes Mills to Make the Steel You Use



and PROFITS to keep mills going

It takes "real profits" to keep an industry alive. It is the purchasing power of the profit dollar that sets today's pace for progress.

The high costs of improvements and expansion in steel can today be met only with profit dollars. For the money that the industry has been allowed to set aside for replacement and improvement is not enough to meet today's requirements.

Steel's 1948 profit dollar buys only 50 cents worth of rolling mill, however, compared with 1938. It takes two of today's dollars to buy as much mill as one dollar bought ten years ago.

Steel profits averaged 6.3 cents on the sales dollar last year. In the same period, the profit per dollar of investment in the steel industry was 9.4 cents.

Steel profits are low when measured against today's high cost of maintaining efficient plants. The steel industry is meeting those costs because an efficient industry best serves the public interest.

Si Pavkov Hurls 3-Hitter as Marion Cubs Shut out Muncie, 6-0, in Opene

Cubs To Meet Reds Tonight With Frank DeLuca Pitching

By BILL DIEM

Si Pavkov and the Marion Cubs shut out the Muncie Reds, 6-0, at Lincoln park last night in the inaugural game of the 1948 Ohio-Indiana league season.

The 19-year-old southpaw from Akron gave 1,574 fans a specimen of great pitching in his first start in professional baseball, allowing but three scattered bingles. He dished up a little of everything in striking out eight Red batters and showed plenty of control in allowing only four bases on balls.

The Cubs gave Si errorless support, and collected 12 hits off Muncie hurler Ray Trava, scoring a run in each the first, second, third and fifth innings and two more in the seventh.

The Cubs and the Reds will play a second game under the Lincoln park lights tonight and Manager Zeke Bekeza nominated Frank DeLuca for the mound chores. The game will start at 8, rather than 7:45 as was scheduled yesterday.

Hitting Strength

The middle of the Cub batting order showed the hitting strength with outfielders Bill Bolduc and Bill Bohlander pounding out two each and infielders Lou Castrovince and Vito Tutera clubbing three apiece.

Bolduc hit a double and Castrovince a triple for Marion's only extra base hits, but Bohlander might have had a double if he had stepped on the first base sack after pounding a hard hit ball to right field in the third inning. As it was, his two-base blow scored Bolduc, on second with his double.

Si got himself into trouble in the fifth inning when a walk, a single and a hit batter filled the bases with but one away, but he bore down to strike out the next man up and retired the side with three stranded when leadoff batter Wayne Carlson went out second to first.

He put two men on base again in the eighth, issuing a walk and hitting a batter, but there were two gone and the third popped up to Manager Zeke Bekeza at first.

In the other innings, no more than four men faced him and in the first, second, fourth and sixth he set them down in order.

Great Pitching Job

Jack Sheehan, farm director of the Chicago Cubs who got into Marion just in time to see the opener, remarked after the game that Si had done a great job of pitching, an observation shared by the fans who applauded him every time he walked out on the field. A car full of his folks who had come down from Akron to see him work his first game knew all along he was good but were mighty happy to see proof of it.

Manager Zeke Bekeza scored the first run in the first inning when he got on base on a fielder's choice, moved to second when Bolduc walked and came home when Bill Bohlander hit a hard single straightaway on the first pitch.

Catcher Tom Gatts scored in the second, also getting on base on a fielder's choice, and came on home when Pavkov singled and two Muncie fielders misplayed in retrieving the ball.

Bolduc doubled to open the third and Bohlander drove him home with the hit that should have been a double but was nothing but another out when he failed to touch first.

In the fifth Bolduc singled and was batted home when Lou Castrovince and Vito Tutera singled.

Score 2 Runs

Bohlander opened the seventh with a hard hit ball that bounded over the shortstop's head and scored on Castrovince's long triple to right field. Tutera singled Castrovince home for the sixth run of the evening.

Charles Livingston relieved Trava in the eighth, walking George Hansen, but flying out the next three Cubs up. Trava struck out 10 and walked three in his seven innings.

Bohlander also had a delegation from home to watch his play, and but for the missed first base and a third baseman who hap-

PREXIES LOSE TRACK MEET IN COLUMBUS

Harding Tops West in Field Events However.

The Cowboys of Columbus West handed the Harding Prexies a 78-40 setback in a field and track meet yesterday afternoon at Magley Field in Columbus.

Although Harding outscored West 28-17 in the field events, making a clean sweep in the pole vault and shot-put and grabbing second place in the broad jump, they were unable to cope with the galloping Cowboys in the running events, losing 61 points to 12 as the Columbusites scored 1,2,3 in the dashes. Dickason scored the only first in the long runs for the Harding sprinters as he won the 880 yard dash.

Number one sprinter Dick Umbaugh pulled a leg muscle in the 100 yard dash to aggravate an already bad situation for the Harding runners.

Clarence Smith alleviated the Harding loss somewhat by setting a new Magley Field record with a 46 feet 4½ inch heave of the shot. The heave also bettered the old Harding record.

The Harding cindermen will not be in action again for a week, when they go on the road to meet Galion High school.

Final results in distance and time follow:

Pole Vault—1st Moodie (H), 2nd Wright (H), 3rd Barrett (H), 10' 4".

High Jump—1st Lanigan (W), 2nd Cunningham (W), 3rd Crowder (H), 5 ft. 6 in.

Shot Put—1st Smith (H), 2nd Ralston (H), 3rd Bishop (H), 46' 4½".

Broad Jump—1st Hicks (W), 2nd Loreno (H), 3rd Borror (W), 21' 9".

120 Yard High Hurdles—1st Miller (W), 2nd Janes (W), 3rd Wanner (H), 16.6 sec.

100 Yard Dash—1st Eitle (W), 2nd Schroder (W), 3rd Mahan (W), 10.2 sec.

Mile Run—1st Dennis (W), 2nd Lingrel (H), 3rd T. Taylor (H), 4 min. 59.5 sec.

880 Yard Relay—1st West, 2nd Harding, 1 min. 38.6 sec.

440 Yard Dash—1st Stout (W), 2nd Evans (W), 3rd Smith (W), 56.1 sec.

Discus—1st Tillis (H), 2nd Schmidt (W), 3rd Smith (H), 125 ft. 10 in.

220 Yard Low Hurdles—1st Janes (W), 2nd tie Pendon (H) and Dennis (W), 27.3 sec.

880 Yard Run—1st Dickason (H), 2nd Han (W), 3rd Stevenson (W), 2 min. 13.1 sec.

220 Yard Dash—1st Eitle (W), 2nd Senroder (W), 3rd Mahan (W), 23.7 sec.

Mile Relay—1st West, 2nd Harding, 3 min. 44.3 sec.

CALEDONIA 3RD IN PUT

Caledonia, running in the famous Ohio Wesleyan Relays Saturday, scored a total of four points, taking third place in the Class B shot put behind the tossing of Fleming, Drake and Comstock with a 123 foot 5½ inch heave, and ranking fifth with a 333 foot 2 inch heave in the discus with the same three man team entered.

Tris Gives Cy Credit For Making Him Great Player

(The following article was written for distribution by The Associated Press by Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of the AP, who was in Marion Monday to act as master of ceremonies for the annual baseball banquet.)

* * *

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

The three of us were sitting on a hotel bed Monday night, waiting for Muncie and Marion to open the Ohio-Indiana league season.

The other two were talking. I was listening. I always listen when the other two guys are Tris Speaker, one of the greatest outfielders of all time, and Denton True (Cy) Young, whose pitching record of 511 big league victories has never been approached.

Speaker, the Gray Eagle who led Cleveland to its only pennant and world series title in 1920 when he hit .388 as manager, was talking:

"YOU KNOW, CY, it doesn't seem like it was 41 years ago that I came up to Boston from Little Rock. The books say I was a pretty good outfielder for a lot of years after that—but I want to tell you that if it hadn't been for you, I'd have been just another fly-chaser.

"You made me a great outfielder, Cy, and I'm the first to admit it."

We stuck in our two cents' worth with: "How did Cy help you, Tris?"

"Well, I was a pretty raw rookie when I came up to the Red Sox," Tris answered. "I wasn't a bad hitter, I had a good arm, and I could run fast. But those fly balls bothered me a little.

"So Cy and Lou Criger, a catcher, took turns hitting flies to me in practice. Cy probably was the greatest fungo hitter of our time, and he could put that fly ball just a full step away from where you could reach it.

"He almost ran my legs off, day after day and week after week.

"Finally, in self defense, I started watching his stance and his swing. I got it figured out that when his feet were set a certain way, the ball had to go a certain way.

"So I began getting a couple of steps before he hit the ball, and I was catching 'em. Then I decided that if I could figure where a fungo hitter was going to smack the ball, I could do the same with a hitter, especially if we had a pitcher with good control.

"You've heard people say that good outfielders are off at the crack of the bat, but a great outfielder has already taken a couple of steps, and in the right direction, before the ball is ever hit. Cy taught me how to do that, and it was that one thing which carried me to the top."

OLD CY, now 81, chimed in with:

"You were always a great one, Tris, and all Lou and I did was develop you a little. I liked to have you in that outfield because that arm of yours could always keep a runner from taking that extra base. And that bat of yours didn't hurt us any, either."

And Tris answered:

"Well, Cy, when you were pitching we didn't have to worry about too many base runners. And we didn't have to get many hits either, because you were always pretty stingy with those runs you allowed."

We never saw either of the two veterans play, but if they performed on the field as well as they "talk" baseball, it's no wonder they are in the hall of fame.

Claridon Nine wins Tourney Opener, 14-5

Claridon played New Bloomington at Waldo Monday night to start the Marion County baseball tournament, winning the contest by a score of 14-5. Jake Chapman was the big gun for the Claridon nine as he pitched 5½ innings, struck out 12, and drove in five runs. Dick Lawrence pitched the remaining 1½ inning.

Claridon pounded out 13 hits while making only three errors, and New Bloomington hit safely four times and bobbled five.

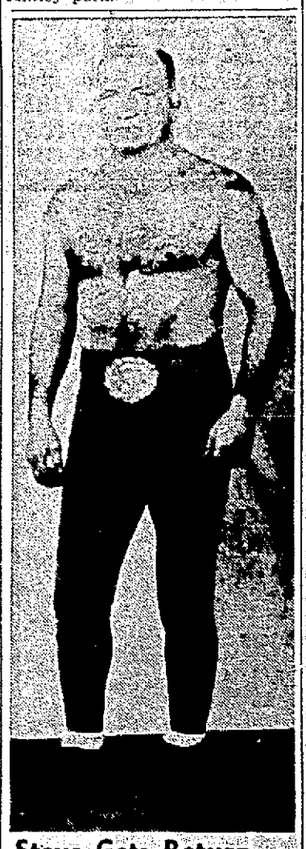
Keeton and Maury did the hurling for New Bloomington and Bobleng caught, Auld and Ruth did the receiving for Claridon.

New Bloomington crossed the plate in the first with one run and posted three more in the fifth and one in the seventh, while Claridon scored four in the first, two in the third, three in the fourth and fifth and two in the sixth.

Next foe for the Claridon nine will be the winner of the Waldo-LaRue game, to be played later in the week.

PRACTICE TONIGHT

The VFW baseball team will practice at 6 p. m. tonight at McKinley park.



Steve Gets Return Match for the Belt

After two weeks of bickering Promoter Fishbaugh Monday night got Gene Blakely's signature on a contract for a return match with Steve Nenoff for the American Junior Heavyweight Gold Belt. Two weeks ago Gene was handed the belt after kicking Nenoff out of the ring so that the former champ couldn't get back at the count of twenty. After getting the belt Blakely refused o meet Nenoff in a return bout but just too much pressure was caused by Steve and so the return. It will be the two-hour main event at the Marion Armory Thursday night with the best two out of three falls deciding the winner.

The one-hour semi-final brings back Len Hughes, who was the cause of a riot here several weeks ago and for Len, Al Alexander of Brooklyn has been signed, Al like all Brooklynites is a hard man to get by and promises Hughes a tough evening.

Mickey Mouse and Sluggo Jones will start the show at 8:30 with a ten minute prelim.

Prices remain the same 50c—75c—$1.00. Call Markert and Lewis Cigar Store for your best seats.—Adv.

WIELDS BIG BAT FOR LITTLE GUY

Ted Beard of Indianapolis Hitting .353.

By The Associated Press

For a little guy, rookie Ted Beard of Indianapolis wields a mighty big bat.

The 27-year-old outfielder is one of the smallest performers in the American Association. He stands 5 feet 7 inches and packs 160 pounds. Last season he notched a neat .322 for York, Pa., of the Interstate league. Currently He's about the hottest batter in the AA.

Beard collected a single, double and triple yesterday to pace the league-leading Indians to a 10-6 triumph over Kansas City. He now has hit safely in 13 consecutive games and is breezing along at a .353 clip. Beard has a season's bag of 18 hits in 51 times at bat and has knocked in 11 runs.

Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler was on hand to toss out the first ball as Kansas City opened its home season before 13,033 fans.

Kansas City was the only western club to lose in the home openers. Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul won. A total of 45,120 fans saw the four afternoon games, about 4,000 less than were on hand when the season started in the east.

Another rookie also gained honors at St. Paul. The Saints remained locked with Minneapolis for second place by defeating Columbus 9-6. Freshman Pat McGlothin, 25-year-old right hander who had a 14-7 mark for Mobile, Ala., last year, went all the way for a well paced 10-hitter.

Minneapolis belted Louisville 9-5 behind veteran Monte Kennedy. The ex-major leaguer pitched hitless and runless ball for six innings. The Colonels exploded for a triple and two home runs to score five times in the ninth. Babe Barna, Miller slugger, smashed his fourth circuit clout of the campaign.

GALION SPORTS PROGRAM

Special to The Star

GALION, April 28—Athletic-minded citizens of Galion enjoyed a program at Senior High school auditorium, sponsored by Scarbrough Post, American Legion, Monday night, featuring a talk by Dick Gallagher, end coach of the Cleveland Browns, and moving pictures of highlights of the Browns 1947 football season. A film of the Legion sponsored Junior baseball world series also was shown.

'Ugly Ducklings' of the Majo Cubs, Browns, Now Riding Hi

By The Associated Press

Tomorrow the beautiful dream may be over for the St. Browns and Chicago Cubs, but today the major leagues' two ducklings" are riding high.

A look at the standings shows the Browns and Cubs, gen tabbed as the 1948 cellar-dwellers, perched in second place in respective leagues.

Each club has a winning streak of three games still alive.

The Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers for the second straight day yesterday, 9-8, for their fourth win in six starts. The Cubs knocked off Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds 7-2, for their fourth triumph in seven outings.

Bosox on Bottom

A short time ago the Browns were being severely criticized for selling most of their stars to the rich Boston Red Sox. A solid choice for the basement, the 1947 last placers were expected to win even fewer games than the 59 they copped last year.

So while the Browns are only a couple of steps behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox are struggling to stay out of the cellar.

The criticism against the Cubs was that Manager Charlie Grimm was chained down with too many players who have outlived their usefulness in the majors.

Well, the Cubs' vets apparently have plenty of kick left and Chicago's pitching has been excellent. Not one of the team's losses can be traced to the hurling. Two of the Cubs' triumphs have been notched by first year hurlers—Cliff Chambers and Bob McCall. The latter bested Blackwell yesterday, allowing only eight hits, all singles.

Giants Rout Phils

Continuing their terrific extra base clouting, the New York Giants shellacked the Philadelphia Phils, 7-1, behind the three-hit flinging of Larry Jansen. Curt Simmons, the Phils' $60,000 bonus beauty, was the victim of the Giants' assault. A home run by Walker Cooper with two mates aboard in the third inning was the most damaging blow. The win, New York's sixth straight, gave the National league leaders a two-game advantage ov Cubs.

The Braves made it two row over Brooklyn as C (Red) Barrett limited the ers to six hits in pitching to a 3-2 victory. Bob Ellio league's most valuable play season, drove in all Boston's with a home run and two off Rex Barney. It wa Dodgers' third straight def

The New York Yankees back the Philadelphia Ath 4-2. Karl Drews received for the victory, but needed ance from lefty Joe Page, ace relief pitcher put out th in the eighth after coming scene with two on and one two-run double by Yogi was the big blow of a thr first inning by the Yanke was Berra's first game of th son.

Three games, two in Am and one in the National were postponed because o They were Cleveland at C Boston at Washington a Louis at Pittsburgh.

Shower Halts Tribe Offense

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 28 — The Cleveland Indians' high-powered offense finally has been stopped — but not by enemy pitchers.

A hard shower blown off Lake Michigan proved to be the most effective rally-topper the Tribe has faced this season as its second scheduled game with the Chicago White Sox was rained out yesterday.

Although Manager Lou Boudreau was wary of the cooling effect of the shower on the Indians' red-hot slugging habits, the day of rest provided a tonic for two of the valuable performers in the Tribe's surge — rookie outfielder Larry Doby and first baseker Eddie Robinson.

Doby was slated to be benched in favor of Pat Seerey or Hank Edwards for yesterday's game because of a pulled leg muscle suffered in the Indians' wild 12-11 victory over Chicago Monday. The speedy Negro gardener was expected to be ready for action today, however.

Robinson has been limping slightly on a foot bruise, but it hasn't affected his rampaging .476 batting average, which is tops for the Indians. Robbie also has cracked three homers, compared to league-leader Ken Keltner's five and Doby's two circuit clouts.

Bob Lemon, No. 2 hurler on the Cleveland staff, was slated to oppose Joe Haynes, Chicago's No. 1 flinger, as the Indians attempt to break their starting record of 1922. The undefeated Tribe already has equaled the Cleveland mark of five straight opening victories, which was set 26 years ago.

MARION BOWLERS LEAVE FOR DETROIT

To Bowl Tomorrow in ABC Tournament.

Jim Dugan, Marion Rapid Transit and Buettin Sales bowling teams of the Marion and Palace Recreation alleys left today to bowl in the American Bowling Congress championships at the Coliseum building in Detroit, Mich. The teams, captained by Walter Axtheim, Ray Maag and Herbert Petrich respectively, are scheduled to roll at 8:30 p. m. on the three alleys.

The two-man events are scheduled for 9 o'clock Thursday morning with the individual events to follow immediately. Two-man teams will include Walter Axtheim and John Dugan; Mac Metz and Sam Sharrock; William Luse and Barney Buettin; Lee Schuler and Herbert Petrich; Gerald Stephenson and Maynard Snyder; Ray and Wallace Maag; Anthony Caprino and John Tanner; and Donald Penry and John Matthews.

City Furniture Mart will bowl May 27 at 10:30 p. m. in the team event, and the doubles will begin at 12:10 p. m. on the following day.

Derbytown Talks Of Weather, Calumet Horses

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, April 28 — The weather and Calumet Farm's rampaging cyclones, Citation and Coaltown, provided most of the Kentucky Derby discussion today as pre-race indications pointed to one of the smallest fields for the classic since its inaugural in 1875.

Calumet's mighty pair already has managed to scare off all but the bravest of the 1948 three-year-olds, and even some of these doubtful starters were praying for a muddy track Saturday afternoon.

Citation sauntered out yesterday and leisurely romped away with the Derby Trial, a one mile final prep jinx which has haunted every colt that ever won.

Citation and Jockey Eddie Arcaro beat W. L. Brann's Escadru a length and one quarter yesterday, although the Maryland colt was far from disgraced in defeat. Escadru was closing nicely and took place money by a head over Howard Wells' Eagle Look, with Charles O'Neil's Galedo—the early pacesetter—last in the field of four.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting, Bob Elliott, Boston Braves — Last year's most valuable player in the National league drove in all Boston's runs with a home run and two singles in the Brave' 3-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Pitching, Larry Jansen, New York Giants — Limited the Philadelphia Phillies to three hits in pitching the Giants to a 7-1 victory over Philadelphia.

Cubs Defeat Redlegs, 7-2

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 28 — The Redlegs of Cincinnati, smarting under the 7-2 defeat the Cubs gave Ewell Blackwell, turned to veteran lefthander Johnny Vander Meer for the finale of the two-game series.

Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs picked another lefthander, Johnny Schmitz, in an attempt to duplicate the feat of Dutch McAll, a lefty, who yesterday limited the Reds to eight hits.

The Cubs landed on Blackwell, collecting three runs in the first inning, and giving The Whip his first loss of the season. The Bruins got three of their 12 hits in the first frame, one a two-run double by third baseman Andy Pafko.

Blackie, who led the National league in 1947 and previously had beaten the Cubs three times, must have looked like a cousin to the Bruins in the first frame. Henry Schenz, the first batter, hit a clean single and then stole second. Eddie Waitkus drew a pass. Hal Jeffcoate became Blackie's first strike-out, but Pafko made up for that. He was followed by Big Bill Nicholson who rapped a single into right field and brought Pafko home from second.

Hank Sauer, the outfielder who hammered his way into the league home run lead Sunday with three homers, failed to find the range against McCall. He was up four times, connecting for one long fly to center, and a ground ball to shortstop. He struck out twice.

Zanesville, Lima Win; Portsmouth, Newark Tie

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's defending champions got away to a winning start in the 1948 opening of the Ohio State-Indiana baseball league season last night.

The Dodgers beat Springfield 7-5. Other openers gave Lima a 5-4 win over Richmond, Ind., and Marion a 6-0 whitewash of Muncie Ind. Rain halted the Portsmouth-Newark fray at the end of the tenth with the score tied 5 all.

Zanesville turned on power to blast seven runs in the first three innings and go on to whip visiting Springfield. After getting two runs in the second, Springfield staged a three-run rally in the sixth, sparked by shortstop George Poydenicz' homer, but it wasn't enough.

Lima wouldn't be denied on its home diamond. With two men out in the last of the ninth, Carl Raucher rapped a grounder to Richmond's Bob Heavern at second. First baseman Bob Brown fumbled Heavern's toss and then Brown threw wild to third and the tying and winning runs came in from third and first for Lima.

Errors figured prominently in the Portsmouth-Newark tie at Newark.

Newark came up to its half of the ninth four runs shy but managed to knot the count and send the game into extra innings. They did it on an error, catcher Bill Trapani's single, a passed ball, three bases on balls, and a single by Dick Yata who drove in two runs. In all, Newark committed six errors and Portsmouth four.

The game will be replayed May 27 as part of a twin bill.

Newark reported an attendance of 1,486 and Marion 1,574.

The teams play the second round of their two-game series tonight.

Caledonia Shuts Out Morral, 19-0

Caledonia High school's baseballers got to Granlee and Miley, Morral pitchers, for six hits and 19 runs Monday on the Morral field, while the Morral diamond men garnered only one hit and scored none in a one-sided scoring fest.

Paul Drake went the route for Caledonia and John Robertson did the catching, while Miley caught the first three innings for the Morral crew and then went in to pitch the fourth and fifth, the game being called at the end of the fifth inning.

Not One Cat But 7 Upon Ada Arrival

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 28—"Express charges on one cat," stated the waybill for a shipment from Florida.

That was correct when the crate left the Sunshine State. However, upon its arrival in Ada it contained not one, but seven felines!

Also attached was an extra charge of 12 cents for milk furnished by the express company at Cincinnati. No fee was added for the services of the attendant.

His friends are wondering whether Lee Morrison knew when he started that shipment that he would have all those animals shipped home for the price of one.

TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Arrangements are being completed for a special public service Friday night when Dr. B. R. Lakin of Indianapolis, Ind., will be in Marion to speak at Edison Junior High school. Through an error, the time of the meeting was listed as Friday night next week in last night's Star. Dr. Lakin is director of the Cadle tabernacle in Indianapolis and is widely heard as a radio preacher. He has spoken to large audiences in Marion on previous occasions.

ATOMIC ENERGY SHOW OPENING

Miamisburg Event Starts Tomorrow; Monsanto Co-sponsors Exhibits.

By The Associated Press

MIAMISBURG, O., April 28—What are little atoms made of? Nothing to be afraid of! Neutrons, protons and little electrons. That's what little atoms are made of.

In terms as simple as a nursery rhyme some 60 atomic scientists are going to try to explain the mysteries of the atom to laymen.

The explanations will be offered at the three-day Miami valley atomic energy show which opens tomorrow.

The show is billed as the biggest, most comprehensive and most understandable of its kind ever held in the United States. Co-sponsors are the Miamisburg Community Civic association, The Monsanto Chemical Co., and the U. S. Atomic Energy commission.

Basically the show is the civic group's idea.

Miamisburg, located immediately south of Dayton, is the site of the soon-to-be-opened Mound laboratories, a facility of the AEC. On completion the facility will be operated by the Monsanto company. Originally, this was to have been a small-town show just for the local citizenry. The aim: to remove some of the mystery from atomic energy and to point up its peacetime possibilities.

That was before the civic officials approached Monsanto and the AEC. They've boomed the show to much larger proportions. Now its open to anyone who can get there, thus assuming nation-wide significance.

Present minimum attendance expectations are set at around 10,000, including both high school students and adults. Five special shows, two Thursday and three Friday have been set up especially to take care of the bobby-sox crowd. To date 56 high schools have definitely indicated they will send groups to the show.

Here's what the average citizen will see:

At the Miamisburg high school gymnasium — turned into an atomic energy museum—a total of 31 separate static exhibits are arranged in chronological form. The exhibit starts with the congressional definition of atomic energy and ends with a display showing how power is obtained through nuclear energy. Included is the American Chemical society's atomic energy exhibit currently on tour of the United States.

Most static exhibits are new. They were constructed by about 60 Monsanto craftsmen and scientists at their laboratory in Dayton.

The second portion of the show is a stage presentation at the Miamisburg grade school auditorium. The 70-minute production features demonstrations by lecturer-demonstrator teams.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 28—Stocks clung to a narrow course in today's market. Trading was at a slow pace.

Many leading issues either were unchanged or swung small fractions in either direction from Tuesday's closing prices.

Hesitancy was attributed to general lack of any incentive in news developments and to belief additional adjustments may be called for before any concerted move to resume the spring rally can be successful.

Occasional gainers included Pacific Western Oil, Mission Corp., International Harvester, Chrysler, U.S. Steel, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Atlantic Coast Line, Montgomery Ward and United Aircraft. Backing down at times were General Motors, J. I. Case, Oliver Corp., Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Union Carbide, U.S. Gypsum, Du Pont, and Standard Oil (N. J.).

NOTICE

In re: Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church of Marion County, Ohio.

To Whom it may Concern:

You are hereby notified that on the 20th day of April, A. D., 1948, the Trustees of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church of Marion County, Ohio, a religious association, filed its Petition in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio, being Cause No. 28748, praying for an order of the Court to sell the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio, and known as Lot Number Forty-one Hundred and eighty-three (4183) in Leffler's Second Addition to said City.

The prayer of the Petition is that said religious association be authorized to sell the above described real estate for the purpose of raising funds to be held in trust to erect or purchase a parsonage in the vicinity of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church, and for other equitable relief.

Said cause will be for hearing on the 20th day of May, 1948, at 10 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard.

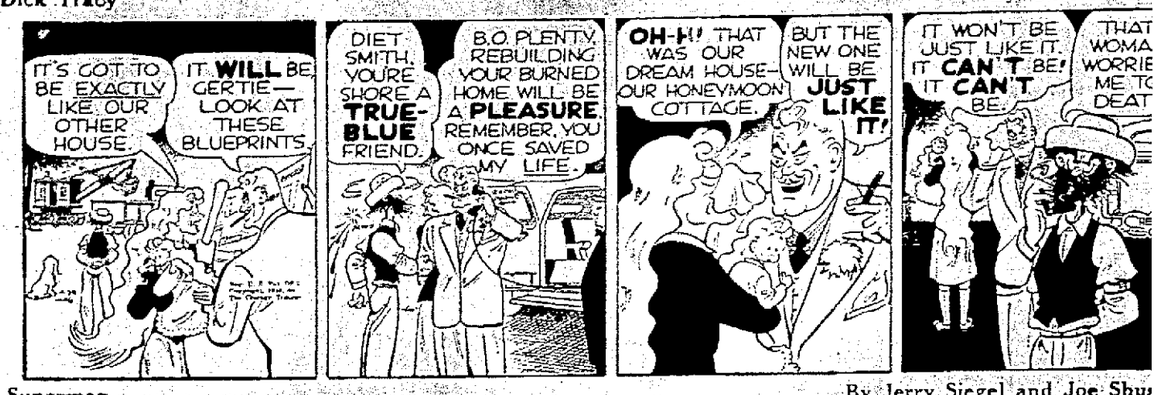
NOT A WORD, YET. I STILL HAVE FAITH IN THOSE KIDS... SUPPOSE WE LOOK UP LUPO. HE LIVES IN MONTMARTRE..
MEANWHILE, AT THE STARLOCKS' HOTEL:
CAN'T I STAND WATCH FOR A WHILE, MA'AM? Y'RE WEARIN' YERSELF OUT!
I CAN'T LEAVE HIM, MR. MOOSE. HIS COLD IS WORSE! WHY DON'T YOU GET SOME FRESH AIR?
WHAT A HOVEL! YET SOMEONE LIVES HERE.. THOSE ARE CHILDREN'S VOICES..AND THEY'RE CRYING!

Dick Tracy — By Chester Go



IT'S GOT TO BE EXACTLY LIKE OUR OTHER HOUSE.
IT WILL BE GERTIE— LOOK AT THESE BLUEPRINTS.
DIET SMITH, YOU'RE SHORE A TRUE-BLUE FRIEND.
B.O. PLENTY REBUILDING YOUR BURNED HOME WILL BE A PLEASURE. REMEMBER, YOU ONCE SAVED MY LIFE.
OH-H! THAT WAS OUR DREAM HOUSE— OUR HONEYMOON COTTAGE.
BUT THE NEW ONE WILL BE JUST LIKE IT!
IT WON'T BE JUST LIKE IT. IT CAN'T BE! IT CAN'T BE.
THAT WOMA WORRIE ME TO DEAT

MERMAIDS HAVE SOMETHING THAT I DONT HAVE !!
I'D GIVE ANYTHING TO LEARN JUST ONE OF THEIR BEAUTY SECRETS!!

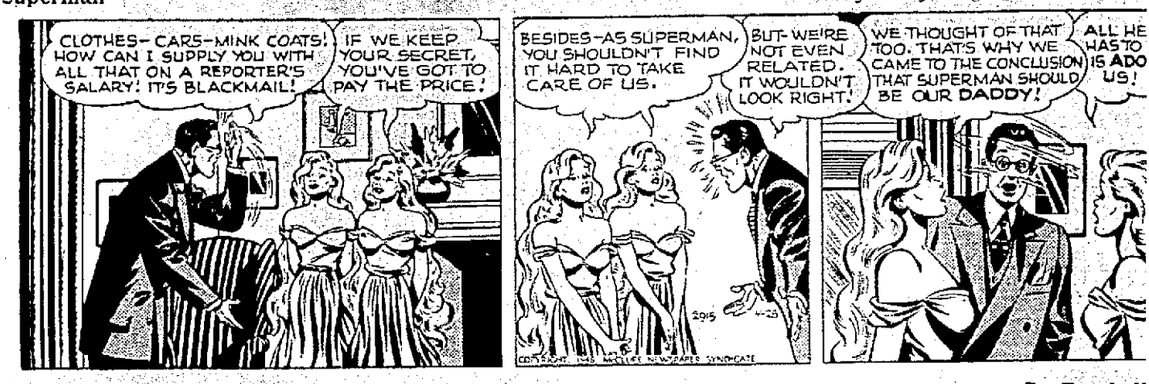
BY WHAT NAME ARE FISH KNOWN UP TO THE TIME THE YOLK SAC IS ABSORBED AND FEEDING BEGINS?
FRY.

Superman — By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shus



CLOTHES—CARS—MINK COATS! HOW CAN I SUPPLY YOU WITH ALL THAT ON A REPORTER'S SALARY! IT'S BLACKMAIL!
IF WE KEEP YOUR SECRET, YOU'VE GOT TO PAY THE PRICE!
BESIDES—AS SUPERMAN, YOU SHOULDN'T FIND IT HARD TO TAKE CARE OF US.
BUT—WE'RE NOT EVEN RELATED. IT WOULDN'T LOOK RIGHT!
WE THOUGHT OF THAT TOO. THAT'S WHY WE CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT SUPERMAN SHOULD BE OUR DADDY!
ALL HE HAS TO IS ADO US!

Gasoline Alley — By Frank K

WHAT ABOUT YOUR UP-AND-COMING SMALLER CONCERNS HERE? I MIGHT WANT TO GO INTO BUSINESS.
THERE IS HIMMEL & SMITH, HARDWARE, AND THE AMP SHOP, ELECTRIC APPLIANCES AND SERVICE.
ANOTHER ONE IS WALLET & BOBBLE. THEIR MOTTO IS, "WE TACKLE ANYTHING." TELL ME ABOUT THEM.
I DON'T KNOW MUCH. THEY DON'T COME IN HERE. BUT I HEAR THEY'RE HITTING THE BALL.
THANKS. I'LL LOOK AROUND.
SAY! DON'T THINK OF OPENING A BAR. THERE ARE TOO MANY OF THEM ALREADY!

Joe Palooka — By Ham Fis

MORNING, DOC... WHERE WERE YOU LAST NIGHT?
SOME FELLER GIMME FIFTY DOLLARS T'TRY AN' REMEMBER WHERE I TOOK A PITCHER... WENT TO 'IS PLACE WITH 'IM... BUT I COULDN'T R'MEMBER.. DAD-BLAMED SHAME.

OH-FRANK WHITE. HE'S AT THE SENTINEL.
SAY, MR. MULLINS, YOU'RE WANTED IN THE OFFICE.
RIGHT... EXCUSE ME, DOC.
SHORE.
OH... LET'S GET OUR PICTURES TAKEN.

Terry and the Pirates — By George Wunc

I BEGIN TO UNDERSTAND, MR GOBLIN, SINCE YOU RECOGNIZED THE STATUE AS A FAKE, AND SINCE YOU CAME TO ME WITH IT, I MUST ASSUME THAT YOU KNOW THE REST OF THE STORY.
I DO! I WAS APPROACHED RECENTLY BY A JAP EX-OFFICER, WHO WISHED TO SELL ME THE PIECE. HE TOLD ME OF FINDING A RUINED PALACE IN THE JUNGLE, WHILE ON PATROL DURING THE WAR— AND OF ITS OCCUPANT, A WHITE MAN WHO BRIBED HIM TO LEAVE BY GIVING HIM AN ALLEGED PRICELESS ANTIQUE STATUETTE.
IT WAS RATHER UNLUCKY FOR YOU THAT HE SHOULD HAVE BROUGHT HIS LOOT TO ME.

The Gumps — By Gus Ed

WELL, BIM—MY CAMPAIGN'LL START SOON—
UNCLE BIM'S BANKROLL'LL START MELTING AT THE SAME TIME!

I'M THE KNIGHT IN SHINING ARMOR WHO WILL BRING A NEW SYMBOL OF GOVERNMENT TO THIS GREAT NATION—
GUMPOCRACY!
THE GREAT REFORMER, HE MAKES MANY SPEECHES LIKE THAT. HE'LL BE AS THE GREAT CHLOROFORM

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

LIONEL BARRYMORE, born April 28, 1887, in Philadelphia, is a celebrated character actor well known to movie and theater goers. But few know him as a talented etcher and composer which he is. Barrymore is the big brother of Ethel and the late John in the "royal family" of stage and screen. He considered an artist's career in his youth but turned to the stage as a surer means of livelihood.

Our immediate problem is a bathtub which can be turned over and used as a mattress until the housing shortage eases.

* * *

I know one fellow who is sleeping on the lower shelf of a linen closet . . . He is lonely but laundered.

* * *

But at least he has a three year lease at rental he can't afford.
